U.S. Expects South Viet To Press Attacks On Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities said today they expect the government of South Viet Nam to step up its campaign against Viet Cong Communist forces, particularly in the Mekong River delta region south of Saigon.

Informants described the intensified campaign as an outgrowth of the talks presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy held in Saigon with U.S. and South Vietnamese officials just before the two nations launched reprisal raids against North Viet Nam last week.

The sources said the reprisal raids were no substitute for the important effort of winning the war in the south.

U.S. officials have followed closely reports from Saigon on the formation of a new civilian government headed by Dr. Phan Huy Quat, former foreign minister.

The new government is expected to represent all political elements in the country dedicated to defeating the Viet Cong and seems likely to have full U.S. backing.

Meanwhile, efforts are continuing to gain additional international support for the U.S.-Vietnamese effort. Some 2,000 South Korean combat engineers are headed for South Viet Nam to supplement the Korean medical unit and a team of karate experts already there.

U.S. authorities regard the Korean contingent as a significant experiment. It will bring the number of foreign personnel, not including those from the United States, to more than 3,000. An international liaison headquarters is being set up in Saigon to coordinate the international effort.

In addition there may be some small increases in the technical and economic support provided by Nationalist China to South Viet Nam.

At least 15 nations — besides the United States and Korea — are aiding South Viet Nam. They include Australia, Canada, Nationalist China, France, Germany, Greece, Israel, Italy, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand, Britain and Spain.

Dr. Quat Sworn In As New Viet Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Dr. Phan Huy Quat, who left his home in North Viet Nam when the Communists took over, was sworn in today as premier of South Viet Nam.

The new Cabinet was forged barely in time for the previously scheduled swearing-in ceremony. At the last minute, Dr. Bui Ton Huan decided against becoming finance minister and the post was given to Tran Van Kien.

As expected, most of the Cabinet members are natives of North and central Viet Nam. The militant Buddhists are strongly represented.

A significant inclusion was Tran Quang Thuan as minister of social welfare. He held the post in Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's first Cabinet after Jan. 30, 1964, but quit after a series of public arguments with Khanh.

Annual Meeting Held

4 New Directors Named For Wellsville Chamber

Four new directors, elected by a mail ballot, were announced at the annual meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Monday night at Meade's Restaurant.

Columbiana County Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis was guest speaker. Twenty-four attended.

The new directors, elected for four-year terms, are L. H. Keay, manager of the Wellsville Branch of the Potters Bank & Trust Co.; Donald Penn, manager of the J. C. Lawson 5 & 10 Cent store; Thomas Platt, owner of Platt's Market, and Councilman C. William Stoddard, owner of McGeehan's Restaurant.

THE RESULTS of the election were announced by Atty. William Bush, Chamber secretary. The Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation and benediction. Fred Huston was master of ceremonies.

Bettis spoke of the threat to the public safety and security of "unorganized as well as organized criminals" and the action of the U.S. Supreme Court in assuming the attitude of "policing the police."

He said FBI figures show that although the population in this country has increased 18 per cent since 1950, the crime rate has increased 98 per cent. A murder, rape, or assault to kill occurs every three minutes. A burglary is perpetrated every 39 seconds. Robberies and burglaries in 1964 were 18 per cent higher than in 1963.

15 Will Face Charges Of Violating Tax Law

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson filed affidavits in Municipal Court Monday charging 15 individuals with violation of the city income tax ordinance.

Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor began serving summonses on the defendants today, instructing them to appear for hearings Feb. 24 at 9 a. m.

Thirteen of the defendants are accused of failure to file a final return on 1963 earnings or an estimate of 1964 income. One is charged only with failure to file a final return for 1963 and another is accused of refusing to submit his records for examination by the tax office. The court will release the defendants' names after the summonses have been served.

Council Plans Talks On New Parking Lots

Council agreed Monday night to meet with the East Liverpool Merchants Association Feb. 23 at 7:30 p. m. to discuss plans for providing additional off-street parking lots in the downtown area.

The meeting was scheduled after a delegation of ELMA members appeared at the session last night to urge prompt action on acquiring additional sites. The principal spokesmen were Dayton Allen, chairman of the businessmen's organization, and William D. Ogilvie of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

The city now operates five metered off-street sites. Several additional tracts have been proposed for purchase and conversion to parking, notably two adjoining lots on E. 3rd St. offered by W. Leland Thompson and a site on W. 5th St. near Jackson St. owned by the estate of Miss Hazel Laughlin.

Allen said the ELMA members wish to co-operate with Council "and do anything possible to expedite additional parking to help our community."

Allen pointed out 1,700 persons are employed in the downtown area.

$4.1 Billion Package Set In Message

Governor Declares General Condition Of State 'Healthy'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — While a packed gallery and a statewide television audience watched, Gov. James A. Rhodes Monday night carefully unfolded a $4.1 billion package spending he termed "a program for the future."

Ohio's general condition, Rhodes reported, is one of "vigor and health." Two years ago, he said, he promised to restore "fiscal integrity" to the state government. Now, he said, "Ohio has moved from the new place in the sun" and his budget aim was "to look to the future."

To that end, Rhodes outlined record spending for education, "one of the major tools for total economic development." He allocated $798.2 million — 55 per cent of the total $1.4 billion general fund budget—to education.

Sixty-six per cent of the $200 million increase in the general fund budget, he said, goes for education, including $200 a year pay raises for school teachers and a $60 million program "to end chronic classroom shortages in districts which cannot afford to provide the needed classrooms from their own resources."

The governor waved to his wife and family as he mounted the podium to address a joint session of the Legislature.

Then, reading from two prompting devices, he followed his text to the letter as he outlined a record state budget for the next two years.

It was the first time in state history a governor's budget message has been telecast and broadcast live. Twin microphones and twin devices which reflect a speech text on seemingly clear glass confronted Rhodes as he detailed a budget calling for more state services and more state spending without more taxes.

Rhodes tied his budget in with his overall philosophy of economic development for Ohio. He also plugged for passage of a $290 million state bond issue May 4 "to finish catching up with urgent capital needs" in education and other fields.

Rhodes said the additional

Legislature Expected To Step Up Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Introduction of Gov. James A. Rhodes' appropriations bills is expected to quicken the pace for Ohio's lawmakers who up to now have marked time with a backlog of nearly 300 non-administration measures.

Rhodes' record-high $4.1 billion spending package was unveiled Monday night at a joint session which was carried over a statewide television network. Much of it had leaked out from various administration sources days ago, however, and it produced little surprise among the legislators.

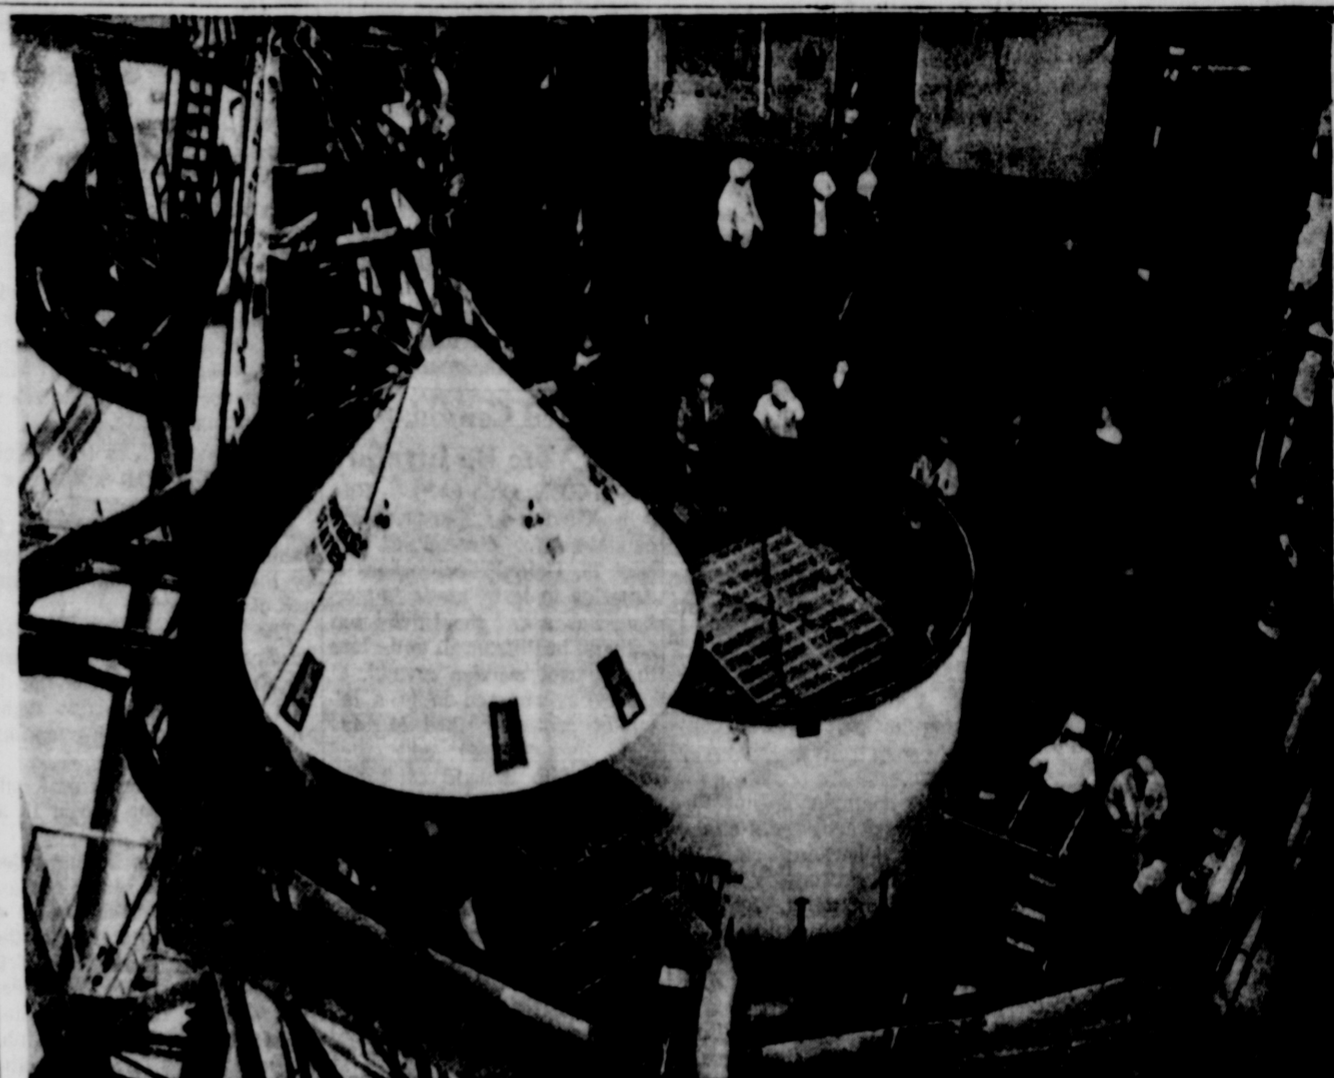

Hearings are expected to begin soon on Rhodes' three separate appropriations bills which were introduced by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee. Under Ohio law, appropriations measures were introduced in the lower chamber first.

House members stayed on for additional work Monday night after senators returned to their chambers for a brief session.

White House Keeping Eye On Viet Nam

President Returns To Daily Routine, Has Part Of Cold

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is back to a workaday routine though President Johnson and his staff remain in close touch with developments in Viet Nam.

Johnson has seemed relaxed and untroubled in his recent appearances, though he still is bothered a bit by remnants of a heavy cold that put him in a hospital last month.

His pace seems to have slowed somewhat and he is doing less out-of-town traveling. He tries to take a nap every afternoon and, for exercise, usually finds time for a half-hour walk around the back yard.

As Johnson has said on two occasions, he still doesn't feel quite as bouncy as he felt before his illness.

Out of doors, the President normally wears a felt hat — something he only occasionally did before the cold bug bit. If there is a chill in the air he wears a topcoat.

Johnson's announced - in - advance schedule today is routine. Democratic leaders of the House have been called to dis-

4 Held In Bid To Blow Up 3 National Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents seized four persons today on charges of conspiring to blow up the Washington Monument, the Statue of Liberty and the Liberty Bell.

Agents arrested three Negro men and a white woman from Canada in New York City. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said agents cooperating with New York City police seized a quantity of dynamite and blasting caps buried in a lot in the Bronx. He said the cache was a portion of the explosives being accumulated by the conspirators as part of their plot.

Those arrested were Robert S. Collier, 28; Walter A. Bowe, 32; Khaleel S. Sayeed, 22, and Michelle Duclos, 28.

To Measure Meteoroids

Winged Satellite Goes Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Saturn I super rocket, performing flawlessly, hurled a "space bird" satellite into orbit today to measure meteoroids.

The space traveler's assignment was to measure and count the impacts with space debris and report back with electronic "squawks."

Word was awaited from tracking stations as to whether the satellite unfolded its giant wings to absorb and relay the blows.

It was the eighth success in a row for the big booster on which the United States counts for major manned space ventures.

The huge rocket blasted off at 9:37 a. m. with the satellite folded in its nose.

Eleven minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that the rocket had done everything expected of it and had drilled into orbit. An announcement said a shroud covering the payload had been jettisoned.

The radio report on the count, direction and force of the impacts is to help determine the threat these fast-moving bits of space debris pose to lengthy manned space missions.

The giant two-stage Saturn I, believed to be the most powerful rocket in the world, blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 9:37 a. m. on the 1.5 million pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage powerplant.

About 15 seconds after launching the 19-story tall booster gradually turned into a south-east heading, spewing a tail of fire more than 300 feet long across a clear sky. Three minutes after launching, the flight control center reported that the second stage had separated and ignited as planned.

Folded in the nose of the rocket was its unique payload, officially named Pegasus after the flying horse of Greek mythology.

Once in orbit, the nose shroud was to fall away and Pegasus was to extend two wing-like panels to a span of 96 feet. Each wing is 14 feet wide and about an inch thick. The burned-out second stage was to remain attached, giving the craft the appearance of a huge bird swooping through space.

Bid To Bridge Policy Gap

French Diplomat Slated To Confer With Johnson

PARIS (AP) — A precise French diplomat who is quite a contrast to the easy Texas informality of President Johnson is to fly to America Wednesday for a new attempt to bridge the policy differences between Washington and Paris.

When Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville meets with Johnson in the White House, they will have much more separating them than differences of background, training and personality.

At several points of the globe, ranging from Viet Nam to the United Nations, French and U.S. policies are at odds.

An old Washington hand who signed the North Atlantic Treaty for France in 1949, Couve de Murville has been conducting his country's foreign policy for President Charles de Gaulle without interruption since De Gaulle's return to power almost seven years ago.

The policy, irritating to Washington at various points of the world, is De Gaulle's, but Couve de Murville is the acknowledged master technician in carrying it out.

At 58, Couve de Murville has the clipped speech, reserved manner, the tweedy look, and a well-groomed manner that would enable him to pass for British almost anywhere. He is anything but the popular notion of the volatile, voluble Frenchman.

U.S. 'Uneasy' On Potential Steel Trouble

Uncertainty Of Election Seen As Worrisome Aspect

WASHINGTON (AP) — With most longshoremen back on the job, federal officials are bracing themselves for the next potential labor explosion — in the steel industry.

While no one is predicting a steel strike, or even whether overt government intervention will be needed, the Labor Department is clearly uneasy over the possibilities.

Spokesmen insist, however, that beside the dock strike and possible steel troubles, prospects are for a generally peaceful year at the bargaining table even though about one-third of all union contracts — covering about 5 million workers — are up for renewal.

While some longshoremen are still on strike, most major ports are back in operation.

A parked auto was damaged heavily early today when struck by a truck that drifted from a parking place on E. 3rd St. near Broadway, police reported.

The 1952 coupe owned by John Pardell, 408 E. 3rd St., was hit by a 1956 model truck driven by Willie J. White, 34, of Cleveland, officers said. There was heavy damage to the rear and left side of the car, police reported.

White told police he parked the truck about 4:50 a. m. and entered a service station to ask directions. The truck then drifted and hit the auto, officers said.

Police filed four charges against White as an aftermath of the mishap, but two were dismissed today in Municipal Court and suspended fines were imposed in the other two.

Prison Term Given On Plea

A Wellsville man was sentenced to 1-20 years in prison Monday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp after he pleaded guilty while his trial was under way on a charge of sodomy.

John Carter, 45, went to trial Monday morning with a jury being selected and sworn. Opening statements were given and the jury was then excused for lunch.

After the jury reconvened at 1:15 p.m., he pleaded guilty to the one charge and two other charges of sodomy and a charge of intimidating a witness and impeding justice were nolle by Judge Sharp at the request of Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis.

Carter will be taken to Lima State Hospital for observation and report and the time spent there will be considered on his sentence to the penitentiary, unless he is returned to the Lima institution.

The jury sworn in by Judge Sharp included Dorothy E. Shone, Evelyn Talbott, Geraldine Schneider and Louise Eardley, East Liverpool; William Rosenberg, Wellsville; Mary M. Roessler, Edwin R. Smith, William T. Bailey and Margaret M. Smith, Salem.

Walter Nicholson and Esther Shaw, Lisbon, and Edward Weigle, East Palestine. Robert Spear of East Palestine was alternate. The jury was then excused until March 1.

$60 Million Offered For Cleveland Facility

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. has made a $60 million offer for the city's municipal light plant, city hall sources said Monday. Mayor Ralph S. Locher confirmed the offer was made in a letter to Ralph M. Besse, CEI president, but the mayor said the letter did not stipulate any amount.

Locher, who said the city has "always maintained the light plant is not for sale," confirmed that CEI would be willing to pay "many millions of dollars over the outstanding debt of the plant." The municipal plant has an $11 million bonded indebtedness.

Tax Returns Held Up By Underwithholding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Good sport that he is, the American taxpayer is digging down for that extra tax money without telling his troubles to the Internal Revenue Service.

But, probably because his pocketbook hurts so, he is being slower than usual with his income tax returns.

The reason so many Americans have a bigger bundle of tax trouble this year is underwithholding last year, a by-product of the 1964 tax reduction law.

The underwithholding was well-publicized in advance, and many taxpayers — there are no figures available on how many — adjusted their deductions accordingly.

Perhaps because of this, the revenue service has had no reports of unusually numerous or loud cries of anguish from underwithheld taxpayers.

But in the first five weeks of the new year, the revenue service received 6 per cent fewer returns than in the first five weeks of 1964.

It seems reasonable to assume that many persons who owe $50 or more may be a shade slower in getting their returns in the mail — especially if they have been used to getting refunds.

However, a revenue spokesman said it is too early in the year to tell if there will be mass foot-dragging.

Refunds ran about $5.5 billion last year and it has been estimated that they will be $1 billion to $2 billion less this year.

Hardship from underwithholding is expected to fall hardest on taxpayers in the $7,000-to-$20,000-a-year class. Taxpayers below $7,000 received a higher percentage tax cut under the 1964 law. Those above $20,000 probably have become accustomed to underwithholding.

The withholding problem recurs each year for millions of taxpayers since the deduction is only an approximation of what the taxpayer owes. It became more acute this year, however, because withholding rates were lowered last year more than the scope of the tax cut.

Income tax rates this year are lower as the second stage of the tax cut takes effect. Withholding remains at the 1964 level, however, and this should provide a better balance between withholding and taxes owed.

town area. He said if shoppers are encouraged to go out of town to buy, merchants and the local government both will suffer loss of income.

"You can have a beautiful store packed with merchandise, but if you don't have adequate parking for your customers you can't do business," he declared. East Liverpool must provide parking for persons who come here to shop from a wide area," he added.

Ogilvie commented that the fact so many merchants attended indicated how important the question of parking is to the business community. Retailing is the main business inside the city limits and East Liverpool is in competition with other communities, he added.

He said it already has been shown that "off - street parking pays for itself and aids the community."

Council then agreed upon the extra session to discuss the question with the merchants.

Defeated Candidate Asks Vote Be Invalid

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Russell Thomas, unsuccessful candidate for director of District 26, United Steelworkers of America in last Tuesday's election, has asked the USW international in Pittsburgh to declare the district election invalid.

Thomas charged in a letter of protest mailed Monday that the $550,000 suit filed against him and 17 rank and file members at Youngstown prior to the election by District Director James Griffin was an "election gimmick in order to scare off and influence my supporters from active participation. Griffin charged in his suit that the defendants were responsible for a tabloid which he said contained "false, malicious and defamatory matter."

Quartet Unit Plans Event

Plans to observe "Guest Night" were discussed at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

Russ Plate of Columbus, district vice president, and Don Barcus of Sebring, area counselor, will be guests at the event to be held next Monday.

The entertainment will consist of tape recordings of the Jolly Boys, the first quartet, and the early international champions during the late 40's and early 50's.

Gerald Jividen will have charge of the social hour.

Ray Vaughn, president, introduced Eli Schultz of Stratton and Bill Shepherd of Carrollton, guests.

Bob Moore, ticket chairman for the annual parade to be held April 3 at Westgate School, said patron lists must be turned in by March 1.

The group voted to give just one performance, at 8 p.m. Further arrangements for the parade were outlined.

Don Schussler directed the rehearsal.

City Girl Leaves For State Contest Of 'Junior Miss'

Miss Susan Jones of Klondyke left today for Xenia to participate in the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Miss contest as the representative of Columbiana County.

Miss Jones, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, 1817 Michigan Ave.

She won the county title in January in a contest sponsored by the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The state event opens Wednesday. The semi-finals will be Friday night, with the finals slated for Saturday night. She will be competing against 21 other girls.

The state winner is sent onto the national event March 19 at Mobile, Ala.

Miss Jones was accompanied by her parents. A senior at East Liverpool High School, she is a majorette and a member of the National Honor Society, Hi-Tri, Future Teachers of America, Girls Athletic Association, Student Council and Spanish Club. She participates in several other school activities.

At Wellsville, Susan also won in the sportswear competition. She will do a comedy skit for her talent participation.

Ralph Fusco is chairman of the Wellsville Jaycee project. A delegation will leave Friday to attend the semi-finals and finals.

Patrol Charges Driver Of Truck

A North Lima bakery truck driver escaped injury when his truck overturned on County Rd. 429 near Negley Monday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Clifford R. Dodge, 22, was headed east about a tenth of a mile west of Route 170 when he lost control on a curve, the truck swerved into guardrails then returned to the highway and overturned. He was cited for speeding in excess of safe road conditions.

Joseph Jackson, 51, of 609 Washington St., Wellsville, reported to the patrol part of a steering arm on his 1958 sedan was damaged when his car struck a hole in the surface of the East Liverpool - Wellsville Super-road at Silver Switch late yesterday morning.

Woman Hurt In Crash Now Listed As 'Fair'

Mrs. Pauline Figley of Chester, injured in a three-car crash on Route 30 near Chester Saturday, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Figley, 908 Neptune Ave., who has been in "poor" condition with a fractured arm, back injuries, cuts of the leg and body abrasions, was pinned in her wrecked auto which collided with one driven by Wayne Cowey of Chester then struck a third operated by Hubert Myers of Chester.

Hubert Myers, 515 Louisiana Ave., who had cuts of the chin, hand and knee, and his son, Robert, 11, who had cuts of the forehead, were in "fair" condition today.

Served City For 19 Years

Raymond L. Cowles Dies; Ex-Municipal Electrician

Raymond L. Cowles, 1106 St. Clair Ave., who retired in July 1959 after more than 19 years as city electrician, died Monday at 3 p. m. at his home after a long illness. He was 74.

Mr. Cowles was named to the municipal job when it first was created on July 1, 1940, by Council at the request of former Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt and his safety - service director William W. Watkin.

The job included taking care of the city's traffic system, maintaining the lines and gauges that transmit reservoir level readings to the water pumping plant in Klondyke and servicing the fire and police department's private alarm and telephone systems.

He also was responsible for many other jobs, including installation of new electrical fixtures in City Hall.

Mr. Cowles' retirement was hastened by failing health. He suffered a stroke on Feb. 2, 1958. Hospitalized for some time, he later returned to his post. He was stricken again.

Mr. Cowles was born Aug. 20, 1890, in Pennsylvania, a son of John and Sarah Bateman Cowles. He returned to East Liverpool in 1924 from Texas, where he had worked 10 years for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. He served eight years in Henrietta, Tex., as local manager for Southwestern Bell.

In 1924, he took a job as linesman here with the Steubenville, 1:45 a. m. following open heart surgery at Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland.

The infant was born Nov. 1, 1964, in Salem.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar W. Taylor of North Lima and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Alma Klink of Mt. Savage, Md.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Seedy-Belhart Funeral Home by the Rev. Vernon Griffin of East Liverpool. Burial will be in North Lima Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

U.N. Assembly Hopes

To End Session Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly hoped to close shop today and go on standby basis until Sept. 1 while a study committee tries to unravel the snarl over U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana was expected to get a go-ahead from the assembly for his plan to set up a committee of 27 to 29 nations headed by himself to range over the whole peace-keeping problem.

The committee would examine the dispute over whether to apply Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. The article would take away the assembly vote of the Soviet Union, France and 11 other nations which refuse to pay peacekeeping assessments.

East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co. He stayed with the firm until it virtually completed the switchover from streetcars to buses in 1938.

Mr. Cowles often recalled vividly his work as a telephone and street car line repairman, battling to repair ice - encrusted wires during winter storms.

His first work for the city was as a self - employed electrician, repairing lines and gauges in the water department's system and replacing burned - out bulbs in traffic lights. Shortly afterward the full - time job was created and he was named to it.

Mr. Cowles lived most of his adult life in East Liverpool. He was a member of the Calvary Methodist Church and the Electricians' Union. He was married April 12, 1939, to the former Adelaide Swartz.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Esther Walters in California, and Mrs. Jean Bowly of Concord, Calif.; two sons, William A. Cowles at home, and Ralph Cowles of Las Vegas, Nev.; two sisters, Mrs. Esther Lentz in California, and Mrs. Telitha Richards of Lake Huron, Mich., and 16 grandchildren and six great - grandchildren.

Arrangements are being made by the Eells - Lgegett Funeral Home at Lisbon, where friends may call Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Owner Of Drive-In Knows About Trouble

PALMETTO, Fla. (AP) — Roy Jones, owner of the Palmetto Drive-In Theater, is well acquainted with trouble.

Six months ago his jeep was stolen from in front of the theater and never found. Recently thieves stole a bicycle, some barbells and croquet set from the screen tower.

A couple of weeks ago Jones reached into his mailbox for letters and out ran a snake. He narrowly avoided being bitten. Burglars recently broke into the theater snack bar and stole a projection machine lens. A short time later two hub caps were stolen from Jones' car, parked in front of the theater.

The theater, incidentally, has been closed for some time because of highway construction.

Weirton Girl Winner In Hancock Orations

Judy Briscoe of Weirton, representative of Weir High School, won the Hancock County American Legion oratorical contest Monday night at Post 10 in Weirton.

James Haddock of Newell, representing Oak Glen High School, placed second. The district contest will be held Tuesday at New Martinsville. Sectional contests will be held the week of March 1 in Wellsville, Bridgeport and Charleston, with the state finals March 17 at Clarksburg.

Newell IOOF Lodge

Hears District Deputy

Roy D. Hooper of Colliers, district deputy grand master, was guest speaker at the meeting of Clark Odd Fellows Lodge 447 of Newell Monday night at the IOOF Temple.

The four degrees of the lodge were discussed as well as the lodge publication.

Henry Smith, noble grand, and Harry Hutton, vice grand, attended. The next meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the temple.

Indonesian Students Stage Anti-U.S. Riot

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — About 5,000 Indonesian high school pupils, including President Sukarno's daughter Rachmawati, 15, staged an anti-American demonstration today in Jakarta streets.

The pupils paraded after attending a rally at the hall of the Communist-inspired Youth Front organization. There they burned effigies personifying Americans and Prime Minister Abdul Rahman of Malaysia.

The rally and demonstration were sponsored by the Communists.

Trial Opens For $300

NEW CUMBERLAND — A jury began hearing testimony today in Hancock County Circuit Court in a $300 civil action filed by the Pure Milk Co. of Steubenville against J. F. Jackson of Weirton. The milk company, which ceased operations in 1960, claims Jackson owes the sum for dairy products sold to him. Judge Ralph Pryor is presiding.

Johnson

cuss legislative questions. A progress report is being sought from members of the President's Council on Aging.

This evening Johnson is host at a long-scheduled reception for about 50 members of Congress.

The President this year has altered the pattern of his weekly meetings with congressional leaders. He used to have top Democrats from the Senate and House in for breakfast every Tuesday. Now he sees Senate leaders one week, House chiefs the next and both groups jointly every third week. The meetings are later in the morning and without breakfast.

Johnson apparently felt time was wasted by subjecting the Senate leaders to weekly discussions of House problems, and vice versa.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said Johnson spent most of Monday working on two speeches — one for delivery Wednesday to the National Industrial Conference Board and another for a White House meeting Thursday at which industrialists and bankers will be asked to help ease the gold-dollar drain.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on Johnson late Monday. Although Rusk had returned in the morning from an extended convalescence in Florida for a cold, his meeting with Johnson was delayed, perhaps deliberately, so there was no suggestion of continuing crisis.

Israel Eyes New Study Of German Ties

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The Israeli Parliament called on the government Monday night to reassess its relationships with West Germany because of the Bonn government's decision to cut off arms aid to Israel.

Bonn announced the move in an effort to dissuade the United Arab Republic from recognizing Communist East Germany.

By a vote of 54-26, the Israeli Parliament adopted a resolution expressing "astonishment and indignation" at the West German decision and describing it as a surrender to Egypt's President Gamal Abdelasser.

Premier Levi Eshkol said Israel would not accept West Germany's offer of money for the $15 million worth of undelivered arms. Bonn agreed in 1960 to ship $80 million worth of arms to Israel in addition to $825 million in reparations for crimes committed against the Jews by the Nazis.

"The account still pending between the Jewish people and the German people — an account written in blood — goes far beyond the limits of the political and material spheres," Eshkol said.

Summitville Council

SUMMITVILLE — Routine business is expected at a meeting of Council Thursday night at 8 at the Township Hall, Mayor Ernest Phillips announced.

against the criminal element, we are actually facilitating their activities in the form of what I wish to refer to as 'turn 'em loose' court decisions and legislation. To be sure, such decisions and legislation are not avowedly for the purpose of lending air and comfort to the criminal element, but the effect is the same."

OF THE Supreme Court, he said "That court has taken it upon itself, without constitutional authorization, to police the police. It also functioned at times as a super - legislative body. Moreover, even as regards its constitutionally authorized judicial function, the court has gone far beyond all reasonable bounds in imposing its own divided concepts of due process upon the states."

Bettis went on to give points to demonstrate his statements. One case he cited was "Work vs. United States" in which the ruling held that "looking into a narcotic peddler's garbage can was held to be an unreasonable search."

He said there were cases where the court suppressed evidence as it was not "subject to seizure."

In another example he said that the court stated that "if it finds a criminal confession has been coerced, the state court conviction will be reversed even though it is convincingly supported by other evidence."

"IF THE present trend continues, the time is not far off when the court will impose upon the state courts as a due process requirement the same kind of rule that now prevails in the Federal Courts by reason of the 'McNabb - Mallory' decisions. Those two cases hold that if a confession is obtained by officers during a period of unnecessary delay in taking the prisoner before a committing magistrate, and the court finds that the delay was for the purpose of interrogating to obtain a confession, the confession is inadmissible as evidence."

"The seriousness of this development can be fully appreciated only when consideration is given to the fact that under such restrictions most serious crimes will go unsolved, because the only way most of them can be solved is by the interrogation of persons under suspicion."

"Further, I am opposed to illegal police searches and seizures, but I do not believe that the U. S. Supreme Court had the right to order the states to free guilty persons merely because the police had acted illegally in obtaining the evidence of guilt. I feel that there are other ways to guard against police lawlessness."

"THE ONLY real, practically attainable protection we can afford ourselves against police abuses of individual rights and liberties is to see to it that our police are selected and promoted on a merit basis, that they are properly trained, adequately compensated, and that they are permitted to remain substantially free from politically inspired interference."

"I am fed up with such platitudes as 'the right to be let alone' when it is used as though it were an unconditional right. Sure, as individual, we all would like to be let alone. You and I at times would like to do as we please. If we are in a hurry to go somewhere in our car, we might want to run a red light or exceed the speed limit and be left alone."

James Beatty, George Rowen and J. Frederick Russell. The board will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the Carnegie Library to elect officers. John Bryer is president.

3 Wellsville Brothers Will Be Tried By Jury

A jury trial will be held Feb. 25 at 9:30 a. m. for three Wellsville brothers indicted by the Jefferson Grand Jury on charges of assault and battery.

The trio, Michael Thompson, 22, of 1529 Main St., a soldier, and Martin Thompson, 25, and Frank David (Rabbit) Thompson, 27, both of 1421 Main St., was arraigned Monday afternoon before Common Pleas Judge John J. Griesinger at Steubenville.

They entered pleas of innocent and bonds were set at $500 each. The charges stem from the wounding of Charles Brooks, 52, of the 152 Club at Steubenville on Dec. 8. They originally were charged with shooting with intent to wound.

BETTIS COMMENTED he has given the same speech about five or six times, but said he "feels strongly" about the restrictions being placed by the Supreme Court and that it is time for some "plain speaking."

The holdover members of the board are Allen Dalrymple, Lloyd Rhodes, Huston, Donald Baxter, Dwight Russell,

To Escalate Is Not To Blow Up

"Escalation" came into the lingo about Viet Nam because it was a word used by the French in their ruinous effort to hold Indo-China by force.

Their military master-minds assured them that the way to break the back of native resistance, Communist-inspired and Communist-equipped, was to "escalate" French military involvement until the enemy gave up. But it didn't work that way.

The enemy was on the scene. He was determined. He was resourceful. He was undistinguishable from France's friends in Indo-China. He was fighting for what he thought was a just cause, and French troops were fighting only because they had been sent to a besieged outpost of the French empire. It was the same kind of hopeless cause the French army held out for stubbornly in Algeria, until defeat was inevitable.

France could not escalate fast enough in Indo-China to hold off the homegrown belligerents. It is doubtful if the United States can escalate that fast enough in Viet Nam. To escalate means to go up, not blow up.

The United States is not at war with North Viet Nam. It is in South Viet Nam as an adviser to the South Vietnamese. Once it chooses to be there as a belligerent, if that is what it is preparing to do, the situation will change drastically.

The United States then would be at war not only with North Viet Nam but with the allies of North Viet Nam. It would have to send hundreds of thousands of troops to Viet Nam.

The easiest thing to do in Southeastern Asia at this moment would be to escalate a problem in international security into an international war.

All that would be necessary is for all parties concerned to keep cornering each other in positions which they cannot escape without losing face.

Any fire-eater can escalate war. It takes statesmanship to escalate peace.

Americans have a right to hope no peaceful stone will be left unturned while our fire-eaters are shouting to themselves and a nervous world that the United States is not afraid of anyone or anything, anytime, anywhere.

Travel Tax Would Be Silly

One of the ideas President Johnson has to cut down the American deficit in its balance of payments with foreign countries is to tax every American $100 for the privilege of traveling abroad.

There are a lot of things wrong with this idea, but two in particular.

Every American should have a right to travel freely, unless his travels would threaten the security of his country.

A tax on travel might balance Treasury books, but only at the expense of American industries that depend upon travel for their income.

No details of a travel tax have been announced, and President Johnson may drop the idea. No one has indicated, for example, whether one would be taxed $100 for a day in Tijuana or a quick trip into Canada.

How To Grow Smaller

In the best of all possible worlds, more and more people would benefit from an ever-growing system of enterprises, like the U.S. system.

But the National Federation of Independent Business finds disturbing evidence in polling its members that ever-growing enterprise does not necessarily mean ever-growing employment.

The members' enterprises, as such, are frequently trying to grow smaller in order to survive. While over-all growth still produces more job opportunities, many enterprises are concentrating on cutting down on jobs while increasing volume.

This is not only commonplace in small enterprise. It is commonplace in big business and big industry. The huge auto industry keeps shrinking in personnel while expanding in production. The coal industry set the pace for this kind of "efficiency." It has been an unresolved issue in steel. It was the tough issue in the dock strike.

Over-all employment continues to go up, but over-all unemployment stubbornly fails to go down. The urge to produce more is offset by the necessity to hire less.

It May Take A While

Steelworkers, steel management and a vitally concerned U.S. public almost as concerned about the outcome of the steel union's election as it was about the outcome of last November's presidential election will need to be patient.

In 1957 when David J. McDonald went up against the opposition of Donald C. Rarick of McKeesport, Pa., for the presidency of United Steelworkers, the official tabulation of ballots was not finished until April 19.

That election was not close. Yet it took more than two months to count the votes officially.

The incumbent president, first to face opposition for re-election in the union's history, received 404,172 votes in the official count. His opponent received 223,516 votes.

Mr. Rarick's ability to attract that many votes in what had appeared to be a lost cause was considered remarkable. It undoubtedly had an effect on subsequent thought about the strength of Mr. McDonald in some future election against a stronger opponent.

I. W. Abel, the union's secretary-treasurer, was to be the stronger opponent. The election this year appears to be close. Both sides have raised questions about voting irregularities.

It may take longer than April 19 to make an official tabulation this time. After all, there was no doubt about the outcome in 1957. The only doubt was about the proportions of the winner's victory.

The doubt in 1965 is about the winner.

The Giftie

The tourist trade again is being urged to see America.

Once more, we natives are restless.

When foreigners flock here to stare us in our native habitat, what will we do?

When we looked at them in their native habitats we never knew whether they were putting it on.

All those quaint dances, funny costumes and stiff prices on junk that was phoney — was this everyday living, or an act staged for the benefit of rubber-necks?

Were those recumbent "addicts" in opium dens real hopheads, or unemployed bums standing in for the tourists scheduled to arrive at 10 minutes after the hour, each hour until closing time?

THIS IS what we need to know if tourists are going to point cameras at us and fill travel diaries with accounts of the sights and sounds of genus Americanus at home.

How will we look as others see us?

How will we feel when others look at us?

We aren't used to it. We don't even look at one another. When we go under scrutiny by strangers, we will get the squirms.

What will they think of us in our stretch pants that are too tight, hair curlers, Hawaiian shirts flapping around fat bellies, Bermuda shorts, blue jeans, sneakers, funny hats and soiled bushbushes?

How will they react to our behavior in traffic jams? What word will they take home about a society that sells guns by mail, gives kids the run of the place and wonders why they are uncontrollable and tears down historic buildings to make parking lots.

What will they point their cameras at, to record the most memorable scenes of life in America?

WHAT WILL be the principal points of interest on the rubberneck buses that will take tourists to visit the high spots of U.S. culture?

After they have visited a supermarket, a shopping center and a ball game, what will they see next?

Will they drool over our pizza pies, hamburgers, hot dogs, black coffee and chlorinated water?

Will they make furtive purchases of girls' magazines, take home souvenir collections of U.S. coinage and collect picture post cards of our monuments commemorating the soldiers who died in our passages of national violence?

How will we hard-core natives of American civilization shape up in our split levels with view windows overlooking other split levels, in our bent-fender autos, gray flannel personalities to match our gray flannel existences and our regimented existences that carry us conveyor-belt-style from the hospital cradle to the easv-payment grave?

"Oh wad some power the giftie gie us to see ourselves as others see us!" said Robert Burns.

Men, it's going to be creepy!

Reuther Talks Of 'Bread And Roses'

By Victor Riesel

The President of the United States and his red-haired friend, the president of the United Auto Workers, were alone for 90 minutes last Tuesday and, of all things, talked about roses as well as poverty and voter registration.

It was early afternoon, so the President ordered some hot broth. This was a knowledgeable gesture because Walter Reuther neither drinks nor smokes. But he is quite the proficient amateur planter of flowers, shrubs and trees and heads the local conservation committee in his home community.

He congratulated the President on his conservation program, adding that there was no reason why America's society could not be "beautiful" as well as "great."

Mr. Reuther averred that bread and roses were not incompatible in the anti-poverty program and then briefed the President on a broad new organization which Mr. Reuther leads.

THE PRESIDENT listened intently to Mr. Reuther's eloquent description of what the auto union chief calls a "conscience" organization—the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty (CCAP).

It is the broadest-based grouping in the poverty field. It's aimed at bringing federal aid to some 35 million low-income and no-income people whom Mr. Reuther hopes to reach through a series of unique public forums.

These will be called "Citizens' Hearings". This gets a bit ahead of the story. As Mr. Reuther explained to Mr. Johnson, the first actual organizing session of CCAP was scheduled for the next day, Wednesday, in the Hotel Mayflower.

There was much more conversation, most of it off the record and the fiery labor chief left with the President's blessing.

ON WEDNESDAY hundreds of CCAP delegates met in organizing sessions throughout the day, with time out only for speeches by Vice President Hubert Humphrey, poverty and Peace Corps chief (America's most famous moonlighter) Sargent Shriver and, of course, Mr. Reuther.

The broadness of the CCAP base is intriguing. Rarely, if ever, has such a spectrum of men and women been reflected in one organization.

On CCAP's new national committee are showman Steve Allen; the Rev. Martin Luther King; American Motors vice president Ed Cushman; Vine Deloria, executive secretary of the National Congress of American Indians; Dave Sullivan, swiftly upcoming Building Service Employees Union chief; Dave Dubinsky of the Garment Workers; and scores of clergymen, farm union and Negro civil rights officials. There was even a chap from the Turn Toward Peace group.

DURING A NIGHT session Reuther was chosen national president. Soon the committee will appoint an executive secretary, open a national headquarters in Washington and launch its drive to prod the government.

As some CCAP leaders see their offensive, it will take the civil rights drive from the lunch counters, restaurants and hotels into the field of jobs.

Peace Through Strength

Survey Indicates There Will Be No War

There isn't going to be any major war in Southeast Asia. The United States isn't going to start one, and Red China has more to lose than to gain by "escalating" the present conflict.

The ultimate result will be an agreement to let North and South Viet Nam remain apart. This objective would be accomplished through negotiation by the major powers, which would provide guarantees to each side against intervention by the other or by forces from outside their borders.

The foregoing survey of the situation is based upon a military analysis which takes into account the strategic facts that exist today in Southeast Asia.

In the first place, Red China is vulnerable. The moment the Peking government starts a major conflict in the Viet Nam area, the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa — with an excellent air force — assisted by air contingents of the United States, could in a few weeks destroy most of Red China's large industrial installations.

THIS WOULD be a devastating blow. It could be done without dropping any nuclear bombs for the targets on mainland China are all within range of attack by planes carrying conventional bombs.

So the most important factor at the moment is a recognition by Red China that, unless it stops its aggressions against South Viet Nam, there is a likelihood of a major confrontation with American forces from bases on Formosa, Okinawa and Korea as well as the Philippines. Also, the United States Navy's aircraft carriers can approach the Chinese coast and launch bombing planes.

Developments until the last few weeks had raised questions in Peking as to whether the United States is in earnest but the raids and counterattacks of recent days may by now have convinced the Red Chinese that the next step may be "escalation" into air attacks on Red China itself if its forces should in any organized way penetrate from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

The paramount fact right now, however, is that the United States is moving toward possible peace parleys from a position of strength instead of weakness.

THERE IS REASON to believe that the Red Chinese are not likely to do anything to precipitate a major war and that the Russians would be just as pleased if they didn't.

Meanwhile, the barrages of words on the propaganda front are in themselves an indication that both Moscow and Peking may have decided to turn away from military steps which could aggravate the situation. The propaganda demonstrations by the Communists thus far have had little effect. The procedures are all too familiar. Simultaneously throughout the world demonstrations are made against American Embassies and legations in what is obviously a concerted movement to gain headlines and make it appear that what the United States is doing is opposed by world opinion.

Most surprising in some respects are the efforts inside the United States to stir up such demonstrations. It's apparent that the Communists are behind most of them.

THE COMMUNIST party in the United States has been issuing press releases condemning the American course in Viet Nam, and various college groups are acting in conformity with Communist aims.

Some of them, on the other hand, have no Communist connection and are related to pacifist organizations. A high official of the government puts it this way:

"One should not assume that the United States foreign policy is under attack from The Communist party alone. Other subversive groups are attempting to show their dedication to the world Communist movement in similar ways."

"Demonstrations, telegram and letter campaigns can be expected as long as the United States remains as the principal deterrent to the advancement of world Communism. The people should be aware of this and carefully consider each protest with a look behind the scenes. It may well be that a Communist will be directing the program."

"The major lesson to be learned from all this is that the Communists and their supporters in this country are not a weak, insignificant element of the American scene."

"THE WAVE of demonstrations which erupted on a national scale immediately following news of the United States counterstrike against Communist forces in Viet Nam demonstrates how unified, organized and powerful an element the Communist movement in the United States is today."

"Its strength is greatly concealed for the most part because the Communists emerge and strike when the iron is hot, just as the guerrillas struck in Viet Nam. In effect, the Communists in this country are using the same tactic — guerrilla warfare — only the weapons here are words and deeds of subversion."

In the counterpropaganda battle, however, the United States is making headway, particularly since it has shown that it will not be cowed by the North Vietnamese attacks and that it is ready to go the limit, if necessary, to protect the independence of the South Viet Nam Republic. The United States is rapidly developing in the whole controversy a position of strength. That is the path to peace."

New Leaders Lack Sparkle

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — If the world seems quieter, and duller, than it did a few years ago, one of the reasons is a change at the top around the world.

There's no sparkle in the new leaders, who are more the silent type. The old leaders still around have pretty much clammed up, maybe because they have it made and can afford to go easier.

President Johnson, lacking President John F. Kennedy's color, seldom sounds off on foreign affairs and almost totally avoids the big televised news conferences which Kennedy found fabulously useful in getting across ideas and personality.

Yet Johnson in less than 15 months in office has probably talked privately to more newsmen than Kennedy did in almost three years. But Johnson does it in a way which keeps him anonymous and unseen.

One of Nikita Khrushchev's complaints about Joseph Stalin, after the old tyrant died, was that he had encouraged a personality cult, his own. Then Khrushchev for years as premier, until banished, built a personality cult around himself. It was one of the reasons given for throwing him out.

But while he lasted he kept the world dazed and dazzled with his threats, travels and flamboyancies. In his years of prominence he was the world's most spectacular figure.

If his successors are involved in a cult it's one of silence, as when he returned to Moscow Monday from his trip to Red China, North Korea and North Viet Nam.

Kosygin hasn't said or done one memorable thing since he took over from Khrushchev last fall.

French President Charles de Gaulle is still around, still both a dramatist and a dreamer, but he keeps his big public appearances to a minimum. And West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was far more forcefully-acting than his successor.

The new chancellor, Ludwig Erhard, is more like Johnson. He's a technician. While Erhard seems to have no sense of drama at all, Johnson does, but Johnson so far appears reluctant to try it much.

A few years ago one of the most troublesome characters on earth, and one of the noisiest, was President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. He's still troublesome but talks less.

Even Fidel Castro, one of the noisiest embarrassments to this country in recent years, is almost mousy compared with the Castro of the old days, which were just a couple of years ago.

Upped Slightly For '66

Health Board's Budget Tentative

LISBON — A tentative budget of $47,913 for the Columbiana County Health Department for 1966 — about $5,000 more than the current year — was approved by the Board of Health Monday night.

The budget is tentative pending study of plans for hiring an additional sanitarian and considering the possibility of inclusion of some health operations of the East Liverpool and Wells-ville districts.

Receipts anticipated under the budget, with 1965 figures in parentheses, include local taxes — $32,238 ($27,238); federal aid — $4,650 ($4,650); state subsidy — $2,000 ($2,000); sanitation fees — $9,000 ($9,000); and miscellaneous — $25, ($25).

EXPENSES listed include salaries — $39,266 ($34,766); travel expenses — $3,100 ($2,600); and operating expenses — $5,546 ($5,546).

The restaurant license and inspection program is expected to have the same income and expenses as the current year — $3,988.

In other action the board authorized a resolution defining the role of the Tuberculosis Clinic.

The board specified the clinic is primarily for the purpose of diagnosing and treating TB, including family or other close contacts or suspected cases, and should not be considered a general chest disease clinic. The resolution included these provisions, in part:

(1) Clinic services are for Columbiana County residents only;

(2) Chest X-rays are to be limited to those who are positive reactors to the Mantoux tuberculin test. Individuals referred from mobile X-ray units with suspected tuberculosis pathology will be given a Mantoux test and an X-ray will be taken on the first visit.

(3) No acute upper respiratory, cardiac or chronic non-tuberculous cases are to be referred to the tuberculosis clinic for X-ray.

(4) Discharged cases and positive reactors to the Mantoux tuberculin test are considered eligible for annual or periodic X-rays.

(5) PHYSICIANS who prefer not to do Mantoux testing in their offices may refer patients to the tuberculosis clinic. Mantoux tests are given at the clinic daily, except Thursday from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

(6) Reactors to the Heaf and tine tests must be confirmed by the standard Mantoux test before X-ray will be taken.

(7) No X-rays can be taken solely as a condition of employment, as in the case of food handlers, school teachers, etc.

(8) Chest films are read every Thursday at the clinic by Dr. F. G. Kravie, medical director and co-ordinator, and he is also available on that day for consultation by appointment. Requests may be made by writing to the clinic or calling by phone.

(9) Drugs for the treatment or prophylaxis of tuberculosis are available without charge to patients who are residents of Columbiana County.

(10) THE medical director's report of findings on X-rays will be sent to the private physician and district health commissioner only.

The Columbiana County TB Clinic, supported entirely by tax funds, should not be confused with the familiar "contribution supported," Christmas Seal organization, known in this county as the Columbiana County Public Health League. The two agencies have no connection and are two separate organizations.

The board also discussed hiring a plumbing inspector on a temporary basis to help out while Harry Stockdale, sanitarian, is not able to work due to a heart attack. The board will pay $415 per month plus travel allowance. Gene Cover, present plumbing inspector, will work as sanitarian until Stockdale returns.

DR. MERLE Singer, county health commissioner, said the monthly reports showed that nine plumbing and two sewage permits were issued.

The sanitarian made seven food service inspections, three sewage, two water, one nuisance, two schools, two refuse and one trailer park and held three conferences.

The plumbing inspector made 37 plumbing inspections, five sewage, one water and two nuisances, held three conferences and attended a two-day plumbing seminar.

Mrs. Ruth Kauffman, county health nurse, and the commissioner made 10 school visits.

hired 11 conferences with the school nurse, four doctor office visits and had five conferences with state officials.

Dr. Leonard S. Pritchard of Columbiana has resigned with his term to March and the board discussed several doctors for the vacancy. The new doctor will be appointed by the Advisory Board at its meeting March 1.

The board also discussed the meeting to be held tonight with the East Liverpool Health Board concerning the consolidation.

The county board's next meeting will be held March 15 at 8 p. m. in the Law Library.

operating a motor vehicle after his license had been suspended. White was given a suspended $10 fine on a charge of allowing the motor to run on an unattended vehicle and a suspended $25 fine on a charge of improper registration.

Three vehicles were damaged but no one was injured in a "chain reaction" crash Monday at 3:04 p. m. on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." at Ravine St., police said.

The collision involved a 1964 station wagon driven by Thomas C. Fair, 69, of New Brighton; a 1957 model station wagon operated by Charles E. Lee, 20, of the Valley Trailer Court, and a 1957 sedan driven by Ronald K. Broadbent, 20, of 973 Ohio Ave., officers said.

Fair said he halted in a line of traffic and his vehicle then was hit from the rear by Lee's. Lee said he skidded and struck the rear of Fair's car and his vehicle then was hit from the rear by Broadbent's.

Fair was operating a station wagon owned by the American National Red Cross of New Brighton, police said. There was damage to the rear door and bumper. Police said there was "very slight" damage to the other two vehicles.

Minor damage was caused in a mishap yesterday morning at 9 at Market and 4th Sts. involving a North Side woman's auto and a tractor-trailer.

The collision involved a stopped 1964 sedan operated by Mary Rita Dunlap, 46, of 1302 Brightview Dr. and the rig owned and operated by Gerald Max Nichols, 34, of Kingston, Mich., who was making a right turn from E. 4th St. onto Market.

Mrs. Dunlap said she had halted for the traffic signal when the rig made the turn and struck the left rear of the auto. The trucker said the woman had been stopped but the car drifted forward while he was turning.

While playing basketball, Clarence Wesley Morris, 21, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a possible fracture of the right foot.

Glenn Richmond, 33, of 222 Washington St., Newell, employee of Waterford Park, was treated for a sprained wrist after a fall at work.

John Lawrence Bird, 2, son of John Bird, 1050 St. Clair Ave., suffered bruises of the right arm when caught in a wringer.

Charles Simpson, 21, of R. D. 2 was struck on the head by a shovel of another man while working at a store site in Glenmore. His wife, Ida Mae, 16, was treated after her finger caught in a car door when she took him to the hospital.

Mrs. Evelyn Hull of Apollo, was treated for a thumb injury after it caught in a car door.

Plans were completed for the Legion's 46th anniversary dinner to be held March 6 at 6:30 p. m. at the post home.

William Hickok, department first vice commander, will be the speaker and Dane Grafton will be master of ceremonies.

A dance will follow the buffet dinner with music being provided by Russ Ludwig and the Blue Shades featuring Ruth Ellen.

Cregar, who also is county commander, announced the county birthday banquet will be held March 13 at the post home with Buck Allen, department commander, as the speaker. The Tempos will play for dancing following the dinner.

The "post everlasting" ceremony will be held Feb. 28 with John Hermann of Salem giving the eulogy. A team from Columbiana Post 290 will induct new members.

Carl Russell was inducted as a new member by James Wallover, past commander. Paul Beck, first vice commander, reported the post now has 670 members.

Wallover, service officer, reported on the GI insurance dividend.

A memorial service for Ted Sayre was conducted by Provost, post chaplain.

Robert Milne, adjutant, reported on the meeting of the County Council Friday night at Glenmoor Post 276.

A financial report was given by Rodney Stull, finance officer.

Tommy Davidson reported on the state Legion bowling tournament held over the weekend in Massillon.

Earl Ohnzeit was named as "Member of the Week."

Cregar appointed Charles Goddard as sergeant-at-arms.

A dance will be held Saturday starting at 10 p. m. with the Rhythmnares featuring Ruth Hissam on the honky-tonk piano.

He reported the district campaign for the "Gifts for Yanks" program far exceeded the quota.

Robert Nutter, post chairman, reported the "Block of Dimes" campaign Saturday in which the post co-operated with the Veterans City Council netted $505.

James Cregar, commander, announced the Veterans Council will meet Friday night at the mayor's office in City Hall when further discussion will be held on the proposed memorial.

Louis Provost and Dave Anderson reported on the campaign to raise funds for the memorial.

Three East Liverpool High School students were among the county winners in the American Legion essay contest, John Ruhe, Americanism officer, announced. They are Bill Hill and Linda Schultz, seniors, and William Brown, junior.

Health, Welfare and related programs get 34.7 per cent or $503 million and general government gets 8.8 per cent of $127 million.

Rhodes talk was interrupted five times by applause from the legislators and galleries. He received a standing ovation at the end.

Bills to appropriate the funds Rhodes requested—and to implement the college student financing—were introduced in the House shortly before he spoke.

Rhodes said that great strides had been made in higher education. "Our blue print for brainpower is being translated into buildings and equipment," he said. But to finish the work he allocated $303 million for higher education, "the greatest increase in the history of Ohio" and $64 million over the current biennium.

Of the total of $997 million for education—from all sources—in the next two years, $693 million would go for primary and secondary education. Part of this would go for new technical and vocational training centers "to prepare unskilled young people for good jobs," Rhodes said.

What's the difference between a heating duct and a trash bin?

That's what village firemen are wondering today after quelling a smoldering blaze in a heat run at the Village Jail Monday night about 7.

A visitor at the jail summoned firemen when smoke and flames began to come from the duct. Firemen used a water hose to extinguish the blaze, then cleaned out a burnt jacket, paper, three empty beer cans and an open cigarette lighter.

The union's talks with the steel industry were recessed pending the outcome of the election and several weeks of bargaining time already have been lost. Steel contracts expire May 1.

While rejecting predictions of widespread labor strife the rest of the year, some Labor Department officials concede that any of the major contract talks could erupt unexpectedly.

Aerospace, textiles, rubber, aluminum, canning and construction are some of the big negotiations coming up.

Despite a sharp rise in strikes during the past six months, the Labor Department insists the period looks worse than it really was because 1963 was so quiet.

Department spokesmen say such publicized strikes as last fall's auto walkouts and the current dock strike created a misleading impression of general labor strife.

The walkouts at General Motors, Ford and American Motors accounted for nearly one-third of the 23 million man-days of strike time last year.

He is expected to be hospitalized and another was injured when the car they were riding in rolled down a steep embankment on Reddick's Hill some two miles from Newell Monday about 6:30 p. m.

David E. Gamble, 16, son of David Gamble, 201 Grant St., was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in the mishap.

He was a passenger in the car driven by Dale Houghton, 18, son of Marion Houghton, 35 1st St., Newell.

Witnesses said the car dropped 50 feet straight down after leaving the road.

Gamble suffered chest injuries. Houghton was treated at the hospital for bruises of the left hand and knee. Another passenger escaped unhurt.

Skate Mishap Injures Boy

An Irondale youth injured while roller skating was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital. Seven area residents were treated Monday following separate mishaps.

Richard Board, 14, son of Lewis Board of Irondale R. D. 1, received injuries to the lower left leg and ankle while skating and was admitted last night.

Dean M. Allen, 12, son of Thurman Allen of McCoy Ave., suffered a fractured left arm in a fall at home and was transferred to Rochester General Hospital.

While playing basketball, Clarence Wesley Morris, 21, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a possible fracture of the right foot.

Glenn Richmond, 33, of 222 Washington St., Newell, employee of Waterford Park, was treated for a sprained wrist after a fall at work.

John Lawrence Bird, 2, son of John Bird, 1050 St. Clair Ave., suffered bruises of the right arm when caught in a wringer.

Charles Simpson, 21, of R. D. 2 was struck on the head by a shovel of another man while working at a store site in Glenmore.

His wife, Ida Mae, 16, was treated after her finger caught in a car door when she took him to the hospital.

Mrs. Evelyn Hull of Apollo, was treated for a thumb injury after it caught in a car door.

Plans were completed for the Legion's 46th anniversary dinner to be held March 6 at 6:30 p. m. at the post home.

William Hickok, department first vice commander, will be the speaker and Dane Grafton will be master of ceremonies.

A dance will follow the buffet dinner with music being provided by Russ Ludwig and the Blue Shades featuring Ruth Ellen.

Cregar, who also is county commander, announced the county birthday banquet will be held March 13 at the post home with Buck Allen, department commander, as the speaker.

The Tempos will play for dancing following the dinner.

The "post everlasting" ceremony will be held Feb. 28 with John Hermann of Salem giving the eulogy. A team from Columbiana Post 290 will induct new members.

Carl Russell was inducted as a new member by James Wallover, past commander. Paul Beck, first vice commander, reported the post now has 670 members.

Wallover, service officer, reported on the GI insurance dividend.

A memorial service for Ted Sayre was conducted by Provost, post chaplain.

Robert Milne, adjutant, reported on the meeting of the County Council Friday night at Glenmoor Post 276.

A financial report was given by Rodney Stull, finance officer.

Tommy Davidson reported on the state Legion bowling tournament held over the weekend in Massillon.

Earl Ohnzeit was named as "Member of the Week."

Cregar appointed Charles Goddard as sergeant-at-arms.

The House passed the bill 92-40 after brief debate on questions raised by Rep. Roy J. Gilliland, R-Jackson and Rep. Carl Stokes, D-Cuyahoga. It now goes to the Senate.

Among 14 new bills introduced in the House (bringing the total in that chamber to 207) was a fourth separate appropriations bill to erase a $7.5 million deficit acquired in the current biennium by the State Board of Education.

The Senate received nine more bills including one under the sponsorship of Sen. Richard B. Metcalf, R-Franklin, and Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, to create a state board to handle matters relative to claims against the state.

Powell's trimester bill, the third he has offered in the Legislature, was scheduled for a vote Monday night in the belief the entire night's proceedings would be televised.

House Speaker Roger W. Cloud, R-Logan, explained this was planned so as to give viewers a more diversified look at legislative processes, including debate and voting.

Legion Post Airls Fight On VA Closings

Walter McCoy of Lisbon, 10th District first vice commander, spoke on the necessity of veterans' organizations co-operating to see what can be done to halt the proposed closing of some veterans' hospitals at the meeting of American Legion Post 374 Monday night.

He reported the district campaign for the "Gifts for Yanks" program far exceeded the quota.

Robert Nutter, post chairman, reported the "Block of Dimes" campaign Saturday in which the post co-operated with the Veterans City Council netted $505.

James Cregar, commander, announced the Veterans Council will meet Friday night at the mayor's office in City Hall when further discussion will be held on the proposed memorial.

Louis Provost and Dave Anderson reported on the campaign to raise funds for the memorial.

Three East Liverpool High School students were among the county winners in the American Legion essay contest, John Ruhe, Americanism officer, announced. They are Bill Hill and Linda Schultz, seniors, and William Brown, junior.

2 Youths Hurt In Car Plunge

One Newell youth was hospitalized and another was injured when the car they were riding in rolled down a steep embankment on Reddick's Hill some two miles from Newell Monday about 6:30 p. m.

David E. Gamble, 16, son of David Gamble, 201 Grant St., was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in the mishap.

He was a passenger in the car driven by Dale Houghton, 18, son of Marion Houghton, 35 1st St., Newell.

Witnesses said the car dropped 50 feet straight down after leaving the road.

Gamble suffered chest injuries. Houghton was treated at the hospital for bruises of the left hand and knee. Another passenger escaped unhurt.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office investigated.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN
Spoofing James Bond

It will be surprising if NBC does not announce in a few days that one of its fall entries will be a new comedy series titled "Get Smart."

It's a James Bond spoof starring Don Adams, who played Glick the house detective in the late Bill Dana show. In this rib of espionage adventure, Adams is Secret Agent 86 (86 being a restaurant code word for "out").

EXCERPTS of "Get Smart" got an unexpected hand from the Madison Avenue crowd at a recent sneak preview of NBC's prospective fall programming. Some of the network's brass are so high on the show they hardly can contain their enthusiasm.

"I hate," said one of them, "to sound trite, but I think it could start a new trend in comedy."

If it does get into NBC's fall lineup and does start a trend, the development will be a reversal of recent fate for Talent Associates, the David Susskind-Daniel Melnick partnership.

"Get Smart" apparently was just another pilot in a bundle of them developed by Susskind & Co. for offering around to the networks.

MORE IMPORTANT in the scheme of things were such projects as a new CBS dramatic hour called "The Outsider," starring Mike Connors. And a comedy series for ABC starring Arthur Godfrey, titled "Parker & Son."

Besides, TA had a drama going on CBS, "Mr. Broadway," and a repertory theater series of 13 hour-long dramatic specials and such other theatrical projects as a musical comedy coming to Broadway called "Kelly."

THEN, SUDDENLY, Susskind and Melnick ran into a streak of ill luck.

"Mr. Broadway" went the way of their earlier "East Side, West Side." CBS reneged on its reported commitment to start "The Outsider" next fall. ABC backed down on the Godfrey show. And "Kelly," brought to Broadway, ran into withering critiques and folded overnight.

As matters stand, "Get Smart" is Susskind's and Melnick's only network hope for next season.

There have been better days for the TA team.

AT CBS, there seems little doubt one of the new shows to be announced soon for next fall is a half-hour situation comedy starring the Smothers Brothers, a comedy folk-singing team.

Tom Smothers is described as depicting a "bumbling angel" in the proposed weekly goings-on, while his brother, Dick, plays an executive in the manufacturing business.

The show, in short, is another of those supernatural offsprings of the popularity this season of "Bewitched."

Produced by Four Star, the "Smothers Brothers" was bought by an advertiser, who in turn took it to CBS and bought time.

According to reliable sources, the series tentatively is booked for Fridays at 9:30, the present "Gomer Pyle" time. That show will be moved half an hour earlier.

At Council Session

Policies Altered
In Sewer Claims

Council and the Board of Public Utilities agreed Monday night on new policies for investigating claims filed against the city for alleged damages resulting from blocks in sewer lines.

Instead of the bills being filed direct with the Council claims committee, as has been the practice in the past, they will be referred first to the utilities board, which administers the water and sewage systems.

THE DECISION was reached after a long discussion in a caucus session. The meeting was arranged because of a steadily-increasing series of claims against the city by property owners who assert their homes were damaged by backed-up sewage, blaming stoppages in the city's main lines.

The city is responsible for keeping open the main sewers, but the property owners are responsible for the laterals leading from the home or business place to the main.

The utilities board was represented by all three members, W. O. Schneider, chairman, A. J. Cloran and Howard Moore, plus Supt. Donald T. Duke and Charles Huddleston, head of the sewage treatment plant.

As the discussion opened, Councilman Donald Hancock, chairman of the claims committee, said "more and more bills" are being filed against the city for sewer stoppages, but they have not been paid on the advice of Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper if the household sewer is not equipped with a back trap.

HUDDLESTON replied his department follows "a regular program of preventive maintenance" to keep its lines open. He said there are several locations where manholes should be installed to help keep lines clear. Huddleston said sewers are rodded out and flushed periodically, particularly in the East End where the terrain is flat and drainage is poor.

When a householder complains of a blocked line, the inspector drops dye into the main line, he related. If the dye flows past the householder's lateral, then the city is convinced the stoppage is in the lateral, not the main line, he said.

Hancock said he feels the city should install needed manholes, rather than continue to be plagued by claims. But he added he can understand a householder's irate feelings when a sewer backs up and flows into his cellar.

Queried by President George E. Willshaw, Huddleston said eight of 10 new manholes are needed to help maintain the sewer system. He said many of the lines are old and installed haphazardly and we get the headaches from what happened many years ago.

QUERIED AGAIN about the increasing number of claims for blocked sewers, Huddleston said the prolonged drought of the last few years may have caused tree roots to "seek water" by forcing their way into the lines.

Duke commented on the fact that the sewer claims were made direct to Council without being referred first to the utilities board.

Cooper said he feels the claims "should be referred first to the utilities board for its comment before coming to Council."

Schneider said the policy also would "disclose to us where the trouble spots are."

"There's no use having a crew to maintain sewers and still being asked to pay claims," he said.

Questions about two more drainage complaints were raised in Council's regular session.

CHRIST PALLIS of Avondale St. said the basement of his home is flooded with surface water. He said the water department made an investigation and tests and ruled it is "coal mine water." He said the same situation arose in 1963 and the same determination was made.

Councilman James Cunningham said Pallas' complaint is the second from that general area. The water department has promised to check this week in an effort to find the source of the seepage, he said.

Dr. A. S. Fisher discussed at length with Council the fact he never has been advised officially by letter of Council's determination in a claim which he filed against the city after a blocked sewer line backed up into his office on W. 5th St.

He said he feels he is "entitled to know why it takes too long for me to be advised of your decision."

The physician said the same sewer has been blocked subsequently, costing him another $39 for a plumber's services.

HANCOCK replied that Council took action the night Dr.

Fisher attended a previous session, agreeing to pay one-half the claim.

"But who is supposed to advise the complainant, I don't know," he said. "Maybe it is the solicitor."

Willshaw conceded the doctor should have been advised formally of Council's action. He said Council will make certain a letter is sent to Dr. Fisher explaining its action.

"If this is an example of how things are handled, there are a lot of loose ends that should be tied together," Dr. Fisher commented.

"Dr. Fisher is implying that we are dragging our feet," Hancock replied. "We acted on your claim and it is out of our hands. As far as taking time, I would rather take enough time to be right. It is not intentional. The claims committee will get in touch with the solicitor and ask him to send you a letter."

COUNCIL FILED a letter inviting the members to attend a joint meeting of the City Health Board and the County Health Board tonight at 8 at City Hall to discuss the possibility of Dr. Merle Singer, county health commissioner, also serving as the city's health commissioner.

Signed by Howard Claypool, clerk, the letter said there are two alternatives: Dr. Singer could serve the city part-time for a fee of $4,000 to $6,000 a year or the city could become part of the county health district and be eligible for his services full-time.

Hancock commented that the same proposition was brought up in 1960 or 1961, but rejected.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, chairman of the finance committee, requested that all department heads submit their 1965 budgets to his committee by the end of the week, to guide it in preparing the year's appropriation ordinance. Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said he believes all the departmental budgets already have been filed.

REPORTING FOR the street committee, Councilman Floyd Murray said it has approved requests for installation of street lights on Globe St. and at Stewart and Morton Sts. A third request still is under investigation, he said.

Murray also said Michigan Ave. residents have complained of recent heavy truck traffic on the residential street. He said he and Vodrey will seek a solution with the hauler.

The summer oiling program, seal-coating and low cost street surfacing projects were discussed at length, but Murray said his committee has not reached a decision yet whether some of the work should be undertaken by city crews or let out on private contract.

Council approved Vodrey's suggestion to present legislation at the next meeting authorizing him to buy 40,000 gallons of oil to help lay dust on unsurfaced streets — an annual project.

MURRAY SAID residents of unsurfaced streets that are seas of mud should look over some of the thoroughfares that have been improved in the last few years with the low-cost surface, in which the city and property owners split the cost equally.

At Willshaw's suggestion, Sample said the finance committee will find out how much money was provided for the city's share of the low-cost surfacing in 1964 and provide approximately the same amount for 1965.

Willshaw said householders should file requests as early as possible if they wish to participate in this year's street program.

Murray said his committee should have a decision at the next meeting whether some of the work should be undertaken by the street department. Vodrey commented the crews have "more than enough to keep them busy."

Councilman Norman Bucher asked Vodrey to obtain an estimate on blacktop resurfacing of Avondale St.

VODREY REPORTED three of the 24 flights of steps maintained by the city have been closed for repairs. The action followed a Common Pleas Court suit in Lisbon last week in which a woman was awarded a $30,000 judgment against the city for injuries allegedly suffered in a fall on faulty steps.

Vodrey said the closed steps are at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St.; the dead-end of Montgomery Ave. and on Lisbon St. at King's Ln. He said the street department made a general inspection of all steps Friday.

Hancock said he feels the city should close any other steps that are not necessary. "There's no need to ask for trouble; let's take care of it now," he said.

Sample asked the street committee to check a proposed change in traffic regulations at W. 6th and Jefferson St. The change would allow a right turn off Jefferson St. from the west lane when the traffic signal is red. Left turns now are permitted from the middle lane when a green arrow indicator flashes on, although the signal is red for all other traffic.

MURRAY reported his committee has approved a recommendation for a 90-day trial of a stop sign on Oakland Ave. at Globe St.

Hancock asked Vodrey if the administration has taken steps to buy new parking meters, pointing out the enabling legislation was approved by Council several weeks ago. Vodrey replied that Cooper is preparing the legal advertisement for bids.

"We were being pushed to authorize the purchase of meters, but now some one is taking his happy old time about it," Hancock commented.

The claims committee was given a $448 bill against the city by Harold Simms, 1001 May St. He said the city ash truck skidded and hit a building on his property Jan. 16, knocking the building off the foundation and damaging the contents.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample. Councilmen Donald Smith and William Davis were excused.

Tax Office Changes
Deferred In Council

Because two members were absent, Council voted Monday night to table until its next session March 1 legislation that would restore administration of the city income tax office to Treasurer Bert A. Dawson, ending a move to give the responsibility to Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

The legislation, given first reading by a split vote Feb. 1, came up for second reading last night, but action was deferred. At the previous meeting, Councilman Floyd Murray had proposed obtaining a ruling from Atty. Gen. William Saxbe to find if Zollinger is correct in contending the tax office job would be incompatible with other duties in his office. But there was no mention of the ruling last night.

Second reading had been expected last night, but Council voted unanimously to defer motion because of the absence of Councilmen William Davis and Donald Smith, who were excused.

Beaver Local Ends Eighth Grade Rites

The end of the annual Beaver Local eighth grade advancement program — because it is no longer as meaningful as in earlier years — was authorized by the Beaver Local Board of Education Monday night.

Urban Petros, principal at the Public School, asked the board to approve discontinuing the annual program, which began when Beaver Local was only an eight-grade system without a high school.

The ceremony marked the graduation of the eighth graders who then went on to high schools elsewhere in the county.

With the construction of Beaver Local High School, and especially since the ninth grade was transferred from the high school to the Public School, Petros explained, the program no longer has as much significance.

The annual presentation of eighth grade awards will continue, however, but during school sessions.

In other action, the board authorized renewal of a lease on the large garage and grounds at the Crockery City Farms along Route 30 with Mrs. Leonard Webber, with an increase from $65 to $85 a month. The district's buses are parked and repaired there.

The board increased the pay schedule for three instructors who have completed additional educational requirements. They include Mrs. Helen Ward at the Calcutta School, Peter Metrovich at the high school and Mrs. Ruth Archibald at the Public School.

Robert Sprague, instrumental music instructor, was granted permission to use the Calcutta School for music lessons Monday nights.

The board approved an application for a bus driver's certificate by Wallace Spence, teacher at the Public School.

A work permit was granted Ralph Baxter, student, of Williamsport for the final hour of daily sessions.

The board approved a resolution of a non-discrimination policy as required of schools participating in federal programs.

The next meeting will be held March 1.

2 Hired In Cuyahoga To Stop Vote Fraud

CLEVELAND (AP) — In an attempt to stop possible voting irregularities in the future, the Cuyahoga County Election Board has hired two retiring police officers to set up a department of investigation.

The board Monday voted to hire Lt. Thomas White, 51, and Lt. Edward Mason, 52. The department will be expanded when the board hires six more men, said Ray T. Miller, board chairman. The board was plagued with a series of election irregularities last year and since has removed nearly 100 workers from the list of booth workers.

No. 16 School Picks Students For Spelldown On March 3

An elimination contest held Friday at No. 16 School near Wellsville decided its representatives at the spelldown March 3 at the Southern Local High School. Winners, announced by Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, are:

Fifth and sixth grades: Dana Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cameron, Frischkorn Addition; Tonya Kerns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kerns, Glasgow; Randy Plunkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Plunkett, Old Salineville Rd.; Lila Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris, R. D. 1; Eddie Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart, Frischkorn Addition; and Ronnie Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kelley, Leatherberry Rd.

Alternates are Anita Fannsworth, niece of Mrs. Nettie Grimes, 25th St. Heights; Nancy Stalder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stalder, Frischkorn Addition.

Seventh and eighth grades: Judy Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston, Glasgow;

Susan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Glasgow; Becky Taggart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Taggart, Irondale Rd.; Alan Swearingen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Swearingen, old Salineville Rd.; and Sharon Wickham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wickham, 18th St. Heights.

Alternates are Lloyd Boley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boley, Leatherberry Rd.; Marsha Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Way of Route 39.

Mrs. Dorothy Price and Kenneth Vuletic were pronouncers for the seventh and eighth grades and Mrs. Maysel Beck and Mrs. Edna Spring for the fifth and sixth grades. Judges were faculty members.

Approximately 30 in each of the two divisions from Salineville, Wayne, Franklin, Highlandtown and No. 16 Schools will participate in the bee at Southern Local High School. The nine survivors will represent the Southern Local Schools at the district contest March 12 at Franklin School in Summitville.

Ohio's Elderly Under Scrutiny Of Senate Unit

CLEVELAND (AP)—The care of Ohio's elderly came under scrutiny of a U. S. Senate subcommittee Monday, with these results:

—Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, demanded a case by case accounting of money the state receives from estates of aid for aged clients.

—U. S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Cleveland said Ohio is housing its poor, elderly patients in firetraps.

—Dr. Joseph B. Stocklen, controller of chronic illnesses for Cuyahoga County, said inspectors from his office had seen residents of one home being fed starvation portions of food.

—Fred Rice, state fire marshal, testified that nursing homes with 30 or less beds are exempt from a state law which requires sprinkler systems.

The subcommittee, under chairman Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, is investigating long-term care under the Senate's special committee on aging. The subcommittee held two sessions in Cleveland City Council Chambers and in the next two weeks will hold similar hearings in California and Colorado.

Young asked Clarence Tittle, chief of the division of the aid for aged of the State Welfare Department, to deliver to the subcommittee within 30 days "a complete statement for the last fiscal year."

Probation Check Set

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard has ordered a probation investigation for John L. Jarrett, 22, and Arnold Lee Puckett, 20, both of Salem R. D. 4, who were convicted by a jury Feb. 4 on charges of theft of tools valued at $82 from the Cherry Valley Sand Co., near Leetonia. The first trial of the pair ended in a jury disagreement on Oct. 14, 1964.

Heart Sunday Fund Drive Discussed By Area Heads

Fifteen attended a meeting of area captains for the East Liverpool Heart Fund drive Monday night at the YMCA.

Plans for the door-to-door canvass on Heart Sunday this weekend were discussed and a movie, "Of Mind and Men," concerning heart research, was screened.

Dr. Peter R. Cibula of Lisbon, a heart specialist, spoke on research and surgery. A question-and-answer period followed.

Anthony Raddick of the district Heart Fund office in Youngstown discussed plans for the campaign and explained how the money is spent by the organization.

Atty. Charles Lang and Atty.

Paul Tobin are co-chairmen of the city drive.

Additional area captains and workers introduced include Mrs. Ruth Ann Woodward, Mrs. Joseph Davis and her daughter, Miss Paulette Marie Davis, and Mrs. Peggy Bloor.

The door-to-door campaign will be held Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5. The workers will leave an envelope at homes where the residents are away. These can be used to mail in contributions to the office at Lisbon.

The chairmen urged anyone whose home may be overlooked to mail their contributions to the Columbiana County Heart Fund, in care of Mrs. Mary Wetzel, treasurer, at the Farmers National Bank in Lisbon.

'Business Women's Week' Observance Planned By Club

A schedule of events for the Business and Professional Women's Club's observance of "National Business Women's Week" was outlined when the public relations committee met Monday night at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Clara Hall, of Thompson Ave.

"Springtime Salute to Working Women" will be the theme for the week of March 7. Mrs. Mary Franklin will arrange with Mayor Merrill Hall for the signing of the proclamation to kick off the activities.

The opening event will be a vesper service to be arranged for Sunday afternoon at 4 by Mrs. Hilda Edgar.

Activities for Monday will include an interview over WOHL with Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president; Miss Joan Witt, first vice president; and Mrs. Hall discussing various phases of womanpower.

Beginning at 11:30 a.m., a rotating luncheon will be held Monday at Travelers Hotel with Mrs. Mildred Cooper in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Josephine Kimble will arrange for displays of items of the club's history in a local store window.

During the club's regular dinner session Wednesday at the hotel a "woman of achievement" award will be presented with the identity to be kept secret until the presentation.

A motorcade will be conducted Thursday evening at 6:30 throughout the business district, followed by a dinner at a local restaurant. Mrs. Virginia Many-penny will supervise the planning for this activity.

The public relations committee, in charge of the celebration, will be assisted by various club members. Several other activities are in the tentative stage.

Girl Kidnaper Hangs Self In Cuyahoga Jail

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 22-year-old admitted kidnaper of a 7-year-old girl took his own life early today in a cellblock in Cuyahoga County Jail, the sheriff's office reported.

Chief Jailer William Lynch said the body of William Rehard was found hanging from a bar at 4:35 a.m.

Lynch said Rehard tied a bath towel around his neck and apparently climbed onto a radiator and then stepped off.

Rehard left a note addressed "to whom it may concern" in which he said he was sorry for what had happened to Donna Adkins and wished it had not happened, Lynch said.

A plea of innocent was entered by Rehard when he was arraigned Feb. 11 on a charge of kidnapping the little girl.

He had admitted forcing Donna into a car near her west side home Jan. 21, holding her overnight in a garage and then abandoning her on the Ohio Turnpike 13 miles from her home.

Before releasing the girl, Rehard fired blank cartridges near her eyes, he told police. One of the girl's eyes later had to be removed by surgery.

A parole violator, he was held under $50,000 bond in the jail awaiting trial on the grand jury indictment.

Cleveland Council Sets Income Tax Vote

CLEVELAND (AP) — City Council will vote March 1 on a request by Mayor Ralph S. Locher to put a three-fourths of one per cent income tax issue on the May 4 primary election ballot.

The mayor estimated his proposed income tax would bring in $19.5 million a year and pledged to use part of the income to reduce property taxes. Finance Director Edward C. Knuth said as much as $7.5 million annually might be cut off property taxes, which would reduce the city tax rate by 2.75 mills.

District Governor Commends Newell Lions At Ladies Fete

Walter Jordan of Chester, 29th District governor, made his official visit at a Ladies' Night meeting of the Newell Lions Club Monday night at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville.

He commended the club as he discussed the program of Lionism and its 18,000 clubs in 129 free countries throughout the world.

He said he believes "the 740,000 members contribute greatly to the understanding among peoples of the world."

Jordan, who was introduced by Albert Logston, a member of the Newell Club and district secretary, lauded the Newell club for "its fine work" under the leadership of Ed Fahnert, president, and Richard Smith, secretary.

Gail May was inducted as a new member by John Herron of New Cumberland, deputy district governor, and Lawrence Rush was presented an award in recognition for his service.

The Rev. E. C. Traylor of the First Christian Church of East Liverpool was in charge of the program. Thomas Miller headed the arrangements committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre Graham of the Chester club were visitors.

The Board of Directors will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. to visit the new Broomhall's Market.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by three Marine lieutenants stationed on Okinawa.

Ever since we came to this fascinating island we have been impressed by the hard-working women of the Far East. They toil in the fields 12 to 15 hours a day — often until they are 80 years of age.

These women are pleasant and uncomplaining. They do not demand equal rights, recognition or any such nonsense. They accept the fact that they were put on earth to work and cater to the whims and wishes of men.

The pampered, parasitical American female would do well to take a lesson from her sister of the Far East. — A TRIO OF LEATHERNECKS.

Dear Trio: Now that's what I call first-rate husband material! Three hale and hearty males who believe women were put on earth to work in the fields until they are 80 years old!

One question, boys: Do you want your mothers to work in the field until they are 80 — or just your wives?

I have one sentence of advice: Stay right there on Okinawa and make three American girls very happy.

Truth Stretchers

Dear Ann: I have been married five years, and am the father of two children. The problem is my wife's parents. I don't want to call them liars, so I will call them exaggerators.

Shortly after we were married my wife said to me, "Why did you tell my cousin your father was a tailor? My mother told her he was a manufacturer."

A few weeks later, my mother-in-law had this to say: "When we go to Bertha's house tonight, remember that you have a master's degree." My father-in-law added, "And don't forget — you are a certified public accountant." (I have no master's degree and I'm not a certified public accountant. I'm a bookkeeper.)

I hate lying, but my in-laws have put me in the awful position of either backing their lies or making them look bad. Please tell me what to do — ANON.

Dear Anon: Stick to the truth and let your in-laws know that's precisely what you're going to do.

Looking bad is a do-it-yourself project. People who become tangled in the inevitable web that lies create never look good — to anybody.

Meddling Wife

Dear Ann: I work in a medical office and I love my job. The problem is the doctor's wife. I'm fed up with her meddling and interference. She used to have the job I now have and apparently she can't quite give it up.

Every day she "drops in" to check the mail, look at the appointment book and get in the way. Friday she told me when to change the typewriter ribbon, when to go to the bank and when to water the plants in the reception room.

Yesterday she announced that she'd relieve me when I went to lunch. When I returned she had rearranged my desk. I almost typed my letter of resignation right then, but decided to write you first.

The two women who preceded me in this job left because of her. If I'm being petty, please tell me. Or should I be — THE THIRD ONE TO GO.

Dear One: Don't write a letter of resignation. Tell the doctor you are leaving — and tell him why.

If he has the courage to instruct his wife to stay out of the office he will ask you to stay and that will be that. If he says, "I'll give you fine references," say, "Thank You" — and make way for numero quatto.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Councilmen Talk To Defend W. 7th Post Office Site

Three members of City Council spoke Monday night in defense of the W. 7th St. site picked for East Liverpool's new Post Office, later termed "not desirable" by the Community Improvement Corp., principally on the grounds it is not readily accessible from the central business area.

The site's accessibility and other factors were defended in brief remarks by Councilmen Donald Hancock, Norman Bucher and Floyd Murray. All three remarked that if community dissension arises, the federal government may decide against erecting the new facility.

Murray said a question of on-site parking has been raised. He said the city could establish an off-street parking lot in the area. He also commented that there appears to be adequate parking at the new Station A Post Office in East End.

"I agree with Murray on the new Post Office," Hancock said. "I just hope we don't lose it."

Bucher said the plans show 21 parking spaces will be provided for patrons' cars, plus additional spots for postal trucks. He said he "cannot see anything wrong with the location" and added that it is "no further from the Diamond than the present building."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: I just had to write and tell you about how I manage to give myself an extra day — yes, one whole working day — in my busy week.

I do my washing and ironing all in one day!

I put my first load in the machine around 7:30 a.m. before I begin breakfast. The first load is always a load to be ironed — white shirts, white blouses, etc. Then into the dryer they go and I add a second load of wash.

By 9:30 at the latest I'm starting my ironing. I keep my ironing board right by my washer and while I stand there ironing, I change loads of clothes and fold all morning. This saves many steps.

I take a break at lunch time and do the breakfast and lunch dishes. Then back to the laundry again.

I usually finish by 3:30 — carry up loads of finished clothes to the second floor, and then make the beds.

Best of all, this saves steps and stairs in my two-floor home. Before, it seemed I was running all over the house on Monday.

Remember . . . a foam pad is a must to stand on if one irons while standing on concrete. Not only saves the feet but the back, too.

GINGER McDONALD.

DEAR HELOISE: If the painter misses nail holes and cracks in the walls, just mix some patching plaster with some of the leftover paint. Patch the holes — and when dry, the color comes out the same as the walls.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm the mother of three teen-age daughters and they have many sweaters. I wonder why the manufacturers don't use pre-shrunk ribbon on the button and button-hole fronts of cardigan sweaters. They give us these wonderful products for washing woollens and really, what for? Usually, after one washing, a brand-new sweater looks terrible because of the shrunken tapes.

I wonder if you have an answer for a very disgusted mother?

MRS. G. A. CHRISTENSON.

Gals: Any of you have the answer to this problem? This mother would be so grateful. If so, please write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column.

Michigan Wins In Two Overtimes

Wolverines Score 7 In 56 Seconds

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma State has a shot at its first Big Eight basketball championship and Hank Iba's Cowboys will go to great lengths to nail the title — three halves to be exact.

The Cowboys went 60 minutes — 40 in regulation play and 20 more in four overtime sessions — before outlasting Kansas 68-64 Monday night for their eighth conference victory in nine starts. Three weeks ago they edged Colorado 59-55 in three overtimes!

Clutch shooting by Jim King and Freddie Moulder finally wore down the visiting Jayhawks, who tumbled to third place, one-half game behind Colorado and 2½ off the Cowboys' pace.

Michigan, the nation's No. 1 quintet, also took the overtime route, battling uphill through two extra periods to gain a 96-95 nod at Indiana and protect its Big Ten lead.

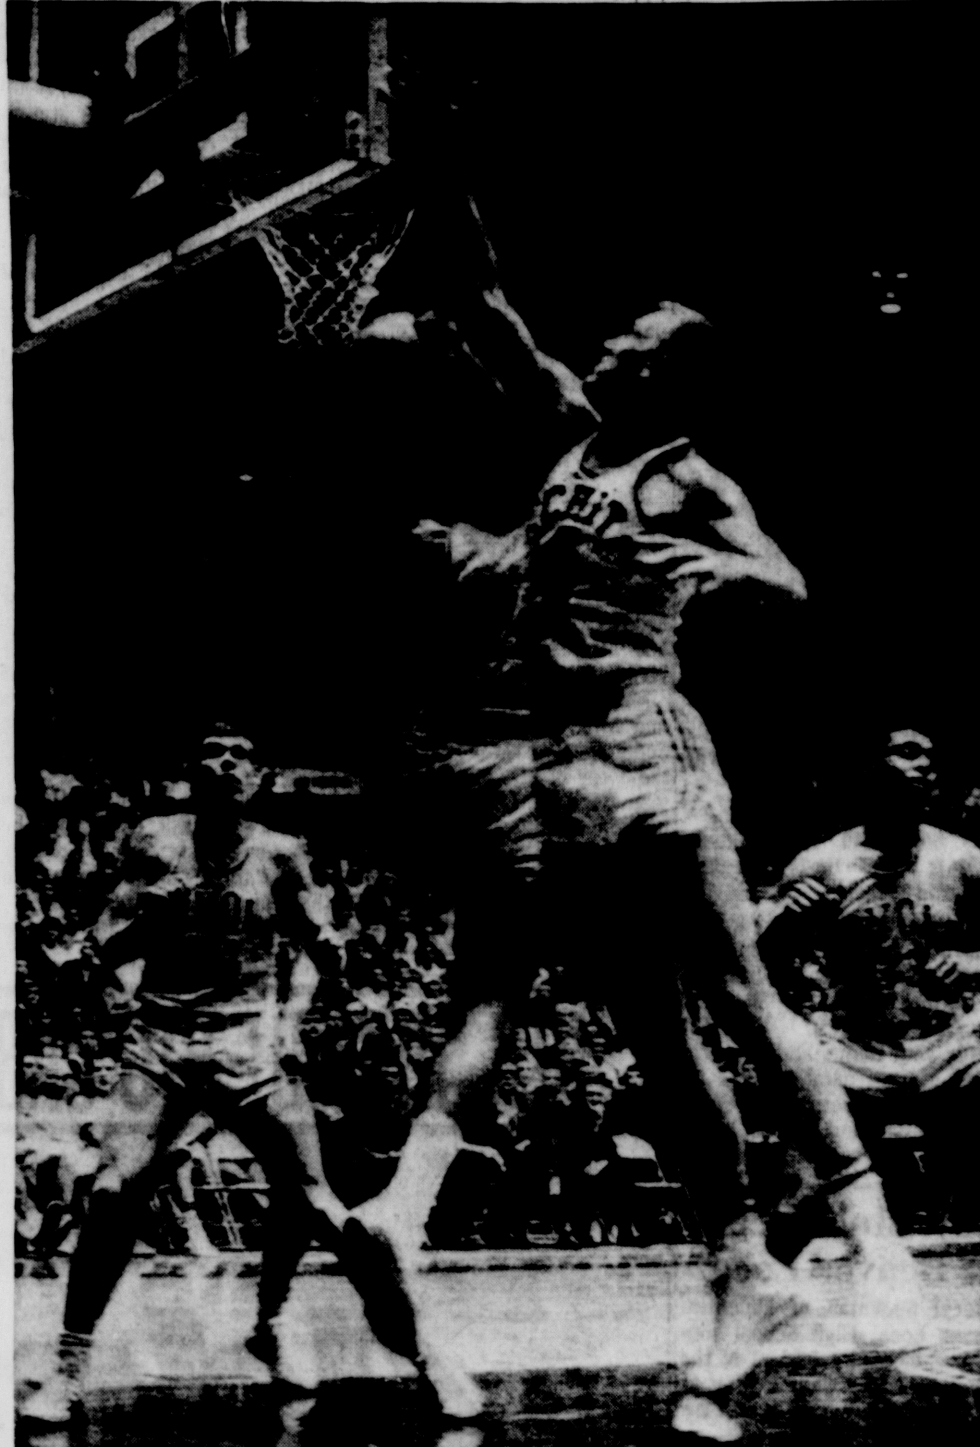

Two free throws by Cazzie Russell nipped the Hoosiers after Michigan had come from seven points behind in the last 56 seconds of regulation play and from four points down with 26 seconds remaining in the first overtime.

The victory was the Wolverines' eighth straight in the conference and 16th in 18 games. Indiana, ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, is 15-3 on the season and 5-3 in the Big Ten.

Garden To Stage Two Title Fights

NEW YORK (AP) — Inspired by two straight successful boxing cards, Madison Square Garden now has come up with a championship doubleheader show for March 30.

The two 15-round title fights will match light-heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of Miami and Jose Torres of New York and welterweight king Emile Griffith of New York and Jose Stable of New York.

Announcement of the doubleheader was expected to be made at a press luncheon today. A reliable source said the final details of the twin title card were ironed out Monday.

The two fights will be shown on closed-circuit television to theaters and arenas with New York blacked out.

Pastrano, making the third defense of his 175-pound-division crown, has been guaranteed $100,000 and Griffith $70,000, according to the source.

The challengers figure to collect about $10,000 each. Stable is the No. 1 welterweight challenger. Torres, who recently

Aaron Is Signed To $70,000 Pact

By The Associated Press

For a while Hank Aaron didn't know where he was going to play. Mickey Mantle still doesn't.

The two homer hammerers—Mantle is seventh on the all-time list and Aaron 14th—signed their 1965 baseball contracts Monday and took their usual places among the highest-paid players in the game's history.

Mantle stepped into the No. 2 spot by agreeing to terms with the New York Yankees for an even $100,000. Aaron, who will be playing for the Braves in Milwaukee this year and Atlanta next, stepped up $10,000 to the $70,000 neighborhood.

That left San Francisco's Willie Mays the No. 1 in terms of salary with a $105,000 contract. Mantle in the runner-up spot and Aaron in the No. 3 neighborhood along with Yankee outfielder Roger Maris and pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mantle, however, doesn't yet know if he is going to earn his salary roaming in center field or playing right field.

"It doesn't make any difference to me," he said, explaining that new Manager Johnny Keane would probably make the decision during spring training. "Actually, I think center field is easier myself. The only thing Yogi Berra thought it would save my legs because I wouldn't have to run so much in right."

Mantle shifted to right field in the late stages of the 1964 season and handled that position during the World Series.

Aaron, the leading average hitter with a .320 lifetime average, batted .328 last season with 24 homers and 95 runs batted in,

NEW YORK (AP) — Bad be up there. Cleveland helped himself, too. It should be between the three of them for second."

And what happens if Ford, who underwent arm surgery during the off season, can't make it?

"We'll be in trouble," said Mantle. "We've got to have Whitey to stop 'em if we get on a losing streak."

Mantle said the calisthenics to be conducted by ex-football Giant Andy Robustelli should help.

"We had them last year and they helped," said Mickey. "He probably knows more about giving them than Yogi."

As for his own position in 1965, Mickey said it would be up to Johnny Keane, who replaced Yogi Berra as Yank manager, to say whether he would go back to center field or remain in right where he finished last season.

Mantle said his legs, which have bothered him throughout his career, felt fine.

He reported his weight at 208 pounds.

Mickey plans to leave for Florida Feb. 20 and will play in the baseball players' golf tournament at Miami before reporting to camp March 1 at Ft. Lauderdale.

Mantle said he was not concerned about the fact that he signed his third straight $100,000 contract and still was behind Willie Mays' $105,000 pay, highest in baseball.

When asked if he could have held out for more, Mantle said, "It's too close to the end to start fighting. I took what they offered and I'm happy."

Halas Predicts Meeting

NFL May Play AFL Soon

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — There will be a meeting of the National and American Football League teams in the "near future" in the opinion of one of the strongest owners-coaches of the old established NFL, George Halas of the Chicago Bears.

Halas, who laughs at his title as the junior-elder statesman of the NFL — actually he is the elder statesman — expressed this opinion as the NFL plunged into its formal meeting.

Halas, one of the founders of the league, would not pinpoint the exact year of any NFL-AFL game, but he did say it was inevitable in the not-too-distant future.

Would it be 10 years, five years?

"Just say in the near future," said old Papa Bear, who has shepherded the Bears as well as the National League through decades of their history.

There has been no indication from Commissioner Pete Rozelle that the league has any idea playing the AFL either an exhibition or championship game, and there is also no indication that anything of this nature will transpire at the current NFL meeting.

Celina Leads Class A Group

Canton Jumps Back To 1st By Narrow Gap Over Lima

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton McKinley defeated Massillon 55-46 last Friday—first time in nine years the Bulldogs have beaten the Tigers twice in the same campaign—and the Stark County powerhouse vaulted back into the lead in the high school basketball poll.

Lima Shawnee, which had ousted the Bulldogs from the top spot last week in the Associated Press ratings, skidded to the runner-up spot. Just as a week ago, 23 newspaper and 32 radio-television sports editors voted in the poll.

McKinley's total against the Tigers was the team's lowest output of the season. Urbana, Cincinnati Withrow, Cleveland St. Ignatius and Youngstown Boardman followed the leaders, in the same order as last week. The only Class AA changes came as Portsmouth's twice-beaten Trojans moved up a notch to seventh, trading places with Newark, and Columbus South took over tenth place vacated by Piqua.

Celina Immaculate Conception retained the lead in Class A as Lakeside—all-season leader until last week—slipped to third and surrendered the runner-up berth to Batavia's 17-game winners. Only Batavia and Minster (16-0) are unbeaten in the Class A top 10. Five of the Class AA elite have clean records, including the top four.

This and that: Massillon co-captain Phil Garcia made 13 free throws in a row against McKinley. Newark repeated as Central Ohio league champion, all-Ohio Roger Markle getting 73 points in the wins over Ironton and Mt. Vernon. Lima Shawnee ran up a huge 111-72 score over Bellefontaine, but failed to stay on top of the ratings.

Last week Wynford was 21st in the Class A ratings, and Bucyrus 21st in Double-A. Wynford beat Bucyrus 76-70 Saturday. Mansfield clinched the Buckeye Conference crown, and Bucyrus the Northern Ohio League last week.

Tom Heckman led Ottawa Glandorf to its eighth straight with 42 points Friday, hiking his average to 32. Chesterhill, which lost 171-45 to Deavertown Friday night, fell 125-36 to Coolville Saturday—surrendering 296 points in the two tilts. Youngstown Boardman has won 33 of its last 34 games.

Midland In Final Contest At Home

Midland can clinch a tie for the Section 8 title when the Leopards play their final home game of the season tonight against Beaver.

The Leopards walloped the Beaver five earlier in the season. Midland with a 19-0 record overall, will be shooting for its ninth straight Section 8 victory.

New Brighton with a 7-1 record is the only team that could possibly catch Midland. The Leopards visit New Brighton Friday in the season finale and are expected to wrap up another Section 8 title under Coach Hank Kuzma.

In other Section 8 activity, New Brighton will be at Monaca and if the Lions lose, Midland would be assured of the title tonight. Western Beaver will be entertaining Hopewell in another league contest.

Oak Glen, fresh from upsetting Morgantown High, will be seeking its second victory of the season over Follansbee tonight on the Blue Wave court.

Coach Bob Starkey's team enters the game with an 8-8 record.

One other game tonight finds South Side entertaining Bellevue in a Section 22 battle.

Brothers Gain Control Of AFL Denver Entry

DENVER (AP) — Denver brothers Gerald and Allan Phipps agreed Monday to pay $1.5 million for control of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Chairman of the board Gerald Phipps said the Broncos would remain in Denver for the 1965 season.

The transaction gives the Phipps' an additional 52 per cent of the stock of Empire Sports, Inc., parent company of the Broncos and the Denver Bears of baseball's Pacific Coast League. The Phipps now hold 94 per cent of the shares.

Accepting the Phipps' offer was a six-man voting trust headed by President Calvin Kunz. Other members include Vice President Earl Hovsam, Walt Emery, Ben Stapleton, Edward Hirschfeld and James Stokes.

Stapleton, spokesman for the group, cited losses of over $2.2 million since 1960 in announcing the sale. Stapleton said the Broncos lost just under $700,000 in 1964, when they won only two out of 14 games.

Much Smaller Than Moon

Experts Hint Discovery Of First Real Baby Star

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of what may be the first real baby star — one apparently much smaller than the moon — was described today by the National Science Foundation.

Although seemingly a real pipsqueak as stars go — having roughly one-thousandth the diameter of the sun — the new-found dwarf shapes up as a heavenly heavyweight champ of sorts.

It apparently packs 300 tons of material per cubic inch of volume, more than 100 million times the density of water.

The NSF told about it in its annual report to the White House and Congress. It credited the find to Dr. Willem J. Luyten, a University of Minnesota astronomer doing research aided by an NSF grant.

There's no question about the discovery of the star, the report said. The only possible question is whether the distance to it has been figured accurately because that would have a bearing on computing its actual size.

As things stand, estimates are that the star, in the constellation Cetus, is some 288 trillion miles from the earth, and the light seen from it on any given night started coming to the earth about 48 years previously. Light from a star travels at 186,000 miles a second.

However, it is relatively chummy with the earth, as star distances go. It also is by far the smallest among about 12,000 relatively small and "nearby" stars that Dr. Luyten has uncovered in special studies using the 48-inch Schmidt telescope on Mt. Palomar, Calif., the NSF said.

The baby star, with a presumed diameter of only 1,000 miles, also would be much smaller than any of the planets. The earth, for example, has a diameter of 8,000 miles.

Film Screened For Industry PTA About Beaver County

A film, "Colorful Beaver County," was screened at a meeting of the Ray Snyder Parent-Teacher Association Friday night in the school in Industry.

Tom Sams of the Midland High School Camera Club screened the film showing various points of interest and facts about the county.

Mrs. Woodrow Pflugh, president, presided for business.

Mrs. George Anderson read a letter from Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, expressing appreciation for the establishment and maintenance of the school library.

Members of the Executive Board will help canvass Industry Borough for the Dollars for Scholars fund March 11-17. The board convened prior to the meeting.

In observance of Founders Day, Mrs. Russell Foster read the history and accomplishments of the Snyder PTA. A silver offering was taken.

A nominating committee was elected to present a slate of officers at the April meeting. Mrs. Foster is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Philip Graham.

Mrs. Alice Simmons' second grade won the attendance banner.

An arrangement of white and red roses centered the buffet table. Mrs. George Blakemore, Mrs. Keith Hammond and Mrs. John Nuzzo were hostesses.

The next meeting will be held with the Fairview and Industry PTA's in the Snyder building March 8. Robert Stenson, former president of the Beaver County Hypnotists Society, will present the program. There will be no business session. Sixth grade mothers will be hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall and family of Columbiana visited Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Maine Hall.

Policeman Received Too Much Assistance

TAMPA, Fla. — A Tampa policeman recently got too much cooperation from the public.

The officer reported that he was called to a neighborhood to catch a peeping tom. He looked over the area by day and selected a spot where he could hide out that night while waiting for the tom to begin peeping. He selected a spot where tree branches hung low over a fence and the grass was tall.

He explained to the property owner what he planned to do. The property owner, wishing to be a good citizen, decided to make the officer more comfortable.

When the officer returned, he said, he found that the owner had tied up the spot by cutting the grass and trimming back the tree branches.

Rig Jackknife Halts Traffic

Traffic was tied up for over 45 minutes early this morning on the Midland - East Liverpool Rd. after a tractor - trailer rig jackknifed across the busy road, following a skid on an icy patch.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said a westbound tanker - type rig driven by D. C. Campbell of Lisbon R. D. 2 went out of control about a mile west of Midland, when he tried to avoid an auto which had skidded on the ice. The truck spun into the bank along the road, with the trailer section blocking the roadway.

Zlatovich said a second rig driven by Donald R. Hays of East Liverpool R. D. 1, attempted to pull the Campbell truck clear of the road, but his truck was struck by an auto driven by Palmer G. Plumb of East Liverpool.

No one was injured in the mishaps but Plumb was cited for driving too fast for road conditions and posted a $15 bond for a hearing later.

Damage was extensive to the Campbell truck, owned by D. F. Debolt of East Liverpool, while Hays' truck received only minor damages. About $400 damages was estimated to Plumb's auto, Zlatovich said.

Campbell was pinned in his cab for a short time as the doors were jammed shut.

A wrecker cleared the roadway after about 45 minutes. Traffic was backed up about a mile in both directions.

Annual Event In Midland

Choir Seats Officers At Dinner

The turning of the holy bread for new officers, in observance of their patron saint, Sretenje Gospodnje, was held at the annual installation dinner meeting of the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of Midland Monday night at The Willows Motel in Industry.

Left to right are Mrs. Nick Tepavich, Fr. Milorad Dobrota, of the St. George Serbian

Orthodox Church, Mrs. Ray Beaver and Nick Bomestar. George Drakulich was installed as president, replacing Bomestar. Other officers inducted were Mrs. Mildred Drakulich, vice president; Mrs. Marko Yandrich, secretary; Mrs. Tepavich, treasurer;

Miss Anka Vidakovich, financial secretary; Miss Nadine Vranes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sam Mamula, librarian; Mrs. Joseph Postich, assistant librarian; Bomestar, sergeant - at - arms, and Miss Mary Metrovich, historian.

Miss Mara Roksandich was installed as president of the Board of Trustees, and Miss Juliann Ostojic, secretary. Mrs. Beaver and Miss Nancy Trbovich were named to the board.

Mrs. Beaver is assistant director to Fr. Dobrota, and Sylvester Vranes, is second assistant.

Named as delegates to District 1 were Drakulich, Vranes and Marvin Chumura. Sixteen received jackets and three got emblems for points earned for participating in various choir and church activities. They were presented by Bomestar. About 75 attended.

Road-E-O Slated For School Bus Drivers Of Area

School bus drivers from Columbiana and nine other counties are scheduled to take part in a Bus Drivers Safety Road-E-O April 24 at the Stark County Fairgrounds at Canton.

Winners in the three divisions - 60-, 66- and 73-passenger buses - will be eligible for the state competition May 15 at Worthington.

Each school district may submit one entry in each of the divisions and entries must be sent no later than April 7 to David Muckley, director of transportation for Plain Local Schools, 901 44th St., Canton N.W.

To be eligible, a driver must have at least two consecutive years of service as a school bus driver beginning with the fall of 1963 and must not have been involved in a preventable mishap or traffic violation during the 1963-64 and 1964-65 school years.

Entrants will be put through a driving skill test, a written examination and a personal interview, and will be expected to identify defects in a faulty bus engine.

Children's Home Board Airs Crops

Higher crop yield was discussed when the Hancock County Children's Home Board met Monday evening at the home on Gas Valley Rd. near Pugh-town.

Charles Padden of Weirton reported on his trip to West Virginia University, where discussions were held on means of increasing production of the farm adjacent to the home. Plans for representatives of the Agriculture Department to come to Hancock County for further recommendations on increasing the farm's production were also announced.

Mrs. Josephine Alexander of Charleston, group care consultant of the State Department of Welfare, will make an inspection visit to the Home Wednesday.

Men's Group Selects Wellsville Delegate

A delegate to the sixth annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Area United Presbyterian Men was elected at a meeting of the Philip Fletcher Chapter of the Men's Organization Monday night at the Wellsville Riverside church.

James Salsgiver was named to attend the session at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel March 5-7.

A film of Wellsville in the 1930s was screened. Ed Pugh was commentator.

The group had lunch at a local restaurant before the program. Russell Keefer is president. The next meeting will be held March 15.

Columbiana Autoist To 'Lay Out' $216

LISBON - Clarence Fatherly Jr., 25, of Columbiana, began serving out $216 in fines and costs in Village Jail Monday.

Fatherly was fined June 6, 1964, for driving while intoxicated, improper plates and lack of license plates, and just completed serving out those fines and costs in the County Jail. He was then sentenced by County Court in Salem for no operator's license and speeding after being cited by the State Highway Patrol. He formerly resided in Lisbon.

PTO Plans Spell Prizes

SUMMITVILLE - Plans to award cash prizes to winners of the annual Franklin School spelling contests were made at a meeting of the Franklin Parent - Teacher Organization Monday night at the school.

About 60 attended the meeting at which a nominating committee was appointed - Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mrs. Carl Welch and Mrs. Marjorie Roberts.

The group approved renewal of the charter for Boy Scout Troop 47. John Gruszecki, principal, screened film strips on the use of petroleum and rubber.

Mrs. Frank Clark directed a stunt and awarded prizes to the winning team. Mrs. Milan Kireta, president, was in charge.

The attendance award was won by the fifth and sixth grades of Mrs. Roberts. The fifth and sixth grade homeroom mothers served refreshments.

A bake sale held by the Fashionette's 4-H Club netted $14 for camping. It was announced Marsha McPherson and Carol Kireta of the club will attend a workshop at Leesville Lake this weekend.

The next meeting will be held March 15.

Midland Youths Freed On Bond For Rumpus

Four Midland youths, arrested following a "riot" near the Masonic Lodge on Ohio Ave., Midland, late Saturday night, were released in the custody of their parents on $500 bond each after a hearing Monday before Squire Paul McGeehan.

Ben Irvin Jr., James Jones and William Edwards, all 18, and Paul Slappy, 19, are scheduled to appear before the June term of the Beaver County Court.

Charges against Johnny Wimbs of Aliquippa were dismissed while Eugene Smith, also of Aliquippa, was fined $10 and costs. Both charged with disorderly conduct, while the Midland quartet was charged under Pennsylvania law covering "riots and affray."

Bridge Job Advances

HAMMONDSVILLE - The Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia announced today that the new bridge on Route 213 here is about 49 per cent completed. The project is a tenth of a mile long.

Cubs Receive 13 Awards In Dinner Event

Thirteen boys received awards at the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Pack 36 of Longs Run Presbyterian Church, held Saturday night at the Calcutta fire hall. About 150 attended.

The awards were presented by Bennett Taylor, Columbiana Council Boy Scout executive, and Lynn Cowan, cubmaster. They went to: David Tittle, Chris Cowan, David Barker, Charles Wolfe, David Mitcheson, Dale Diddle, Jeff Shuman, Jerry Coplin, Terry Cross, Geoffrey Schneider, Reed Lencse, Douglas Steebner and William Och.

The program opened with presentation of the colors by Den 4, led by Mrs. Janet Morgan. Jerry King led the invocation. Dinner was served buffet - style by Pack 59 of Yellow Creek.

The banquet theme was "Frontiers." The dens, their leaders and their themes were: Den 2, Mrs. Martha Mitcheson, "American Indian," Den 1, Mrs. Doris Thompson, "Early American," Den 4, Mrs. Morgan, "Space," Den 11, Mrs. Louise Lencse, "Admiral Byrd's Trip to the South Pole," and Den 9, Mrs. Peggy Cross, "Ben Franklin."

The guest table was centered with a four - tiered cake made by Mr. and Mrs. David O'Hanlon to mark the 55th anniversary of scouting.

William Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, was toastmaster. He introduced Mr. and Mrs. Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. Woody Dietch and Wayne Wilson. Dietch is district scout executive and Wilson is neighborhood commissioner.

Douglas Steebner was accepted into the Webelos Den. A candlelight Cub Scout "graduation" ceremony was conducted by Cowan for Billy Och, Dale Thornton, scoutmaster of Troop 12, assisted by six scouts, accepted Och into the troop.

Den 4 retired the colors. Scoutmaster Jack Glover and six members of Troop 19 at Wellsville performed Indian dances. Mrs. Lencse spoke on behalf of the pack, thanking Mr. and Mrs. O'Hanlon for their help. O'Hanlon is retiring cubmaster. Rayburn gave the closing prayer.

Guests Visit At Salineville

Sunday guests of Mrs. Valeria Stephens of School House Hill, Salineville, were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson of East Liverpool.

Jaymes Carter, student at Youngstown University, was a weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Carter.

Legion Presents Girl Scholarship At Lawrenceville

A beauty school scholarship was authorized by the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 at a meeting Monday night.

The scholarship to the A. & H. School of Beauty was awarded to Pamela Waide, daughter of Harold Waide of Lawrenceville, who is a past commander.

The post also authorized a $10 contribution to the Lawrenceville Athletic Association.

Plans were made for a free American Legion anniversary dance for members and guests March 19 at the post home.

Charles Huffman, commander, was in charge.

Fancy car: Buick Special V-6

Fancy. But not too fancy. Just enough to make your friends think you've found oil in the basement. You may think so, too, when you get acquainted with Buick's V-6—the best thing that ever happened to 6 cylinders. Its 225 cu. in. delivers 155 h.p., without delivering you to the gas station all the time. As to the plain, homely price: you'll find it looks restful in the family budget. We design the Buick Special so you can drive a Buick and still enjoy the other good things in life. See your Buick dealer. Remember: a Buick for only $2343.00*. That's the plain, honest (inspiring) truth.

Plain price: $2343.00
*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge (transportation charges, accessories, other optional equipment, state and local taxes additional).

Wouldn't you really rather go first class?
